Dean Acheson Sworn Into Office

Foreign Loan Spur Looming

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Dean Acheson took over as secretary of state today the task of translating into action, in Congress and around the world, the four-front anti-communist foreign policy to which President Truman has committed his second term

Foremost among his major tasks as successor to retiring Secretary George Marshall will be the development of a plan for stimulating the flow of American private capital into foreign investments.

Mr. Truman's inclusion of this point in his inauguration speech indicates that the administration has reached a major turning point in its foreign financial policies.

While the European recovery and other announced aid programs will go ahead as scheduled, officials expect increasing stress on the use of private capital abroad and a decreasing use of direct American government financing.

Congress was frankly puzzled over the possible methods of guaranteeing American investments abroad. How the lawmakers will finally react apparently depends on the form in which Mr. Truman presents his plan in this connection.

Acheson was sworn in at 11:13 a. m. today.

THREE MAIN PROBLEMS

In overall policy making he is faced with three main immediate problems:

1. Completion of the draft of a North Atlantic security treaty binding the United States and Canada in a military alliance with the key nations of western Europe. The treaty should be ready to go to the senate by mid-February.

2. Final development of an overall foreign aid program. This would include not only economic assistance for the second year of the Marshall plan in Eurpe, but also a plan for giving military arms and equipment to friendly nations, principally those in western Europe.

3. Formation of a detailed plan for making good Mr. Truman's pledge that this nation will undertake to raise living standards by increasing production of goods in backward areas of the earth.

Officials who have been doing spadework on this project foresee action along several lines. Over the next few weeks they expect responses from industrialized foreign nations, such as Britain and France, to Mr. Truman's invitation in his inaugural speech that all nations able to do so join in building up underdeveloped areas.

Washington also expects to hear, perhaps even more promptly, from many of the countries which might benefit by this program. The president is believed to have had particularly in mind broad regions of Latin America and Asia.

Officials familiar with the background of Mr. Truman's proposal said that from the American point of view there are two main problems. One is the use of American technical skills and industrial know-how; the other is the provision of capital for foreign investment.

It is expected that as the program develops many American missions of engineers and scientists will be sent abroad.

World's Reaction

(By International News Service)

The following is the editorial comment by the nation's leading newspapers on President Truman's inaugural address:

New York Times—"It was a day of dedication for the Democratic spirit. . . . It was democracy looking homeward across a great continent, but also looking outward toward a world in which democracy will never again be impotent or ashamed or apologetic."

New York Herald Tribune—"Mr. Truman has given the American people evidence that he takes seriously and views broadly the leadership which they have entrusted to him."

New York Daily News—"No matter what else, Mr. Truman believes he has been mandated by American voters to take over the economic and political problems of about three-fourths of this globe, and Harry, with the assistance of every docile U. S. taxpayer, proposes to beef up said world on a scale unprecedented in anybody's history."

Ohio State Journal in Columbus—"President Truman's inaugural address was an outline of a vigorous course to be pursued by the United States . . . against communism and its threat to envelope the world."

"DODGED NO ISSUE"

New York Daily Mirror—"There is this to say about Harry Truman: he dodged no issue; he used no weasel words; he clothed no concept in the intricacies of oratory."

Abroad, western Europe hailed President Truman's inauguration speech as evidence that the U. S. will stand firm in the fight against communism.

The London Daily Graphic, in an editorial summing up a good part of the western attitude toward the speech, said: "He made it perfectly clear that Americans are still in the van of the fight against the ideology which is the exact antithesis of democracy."

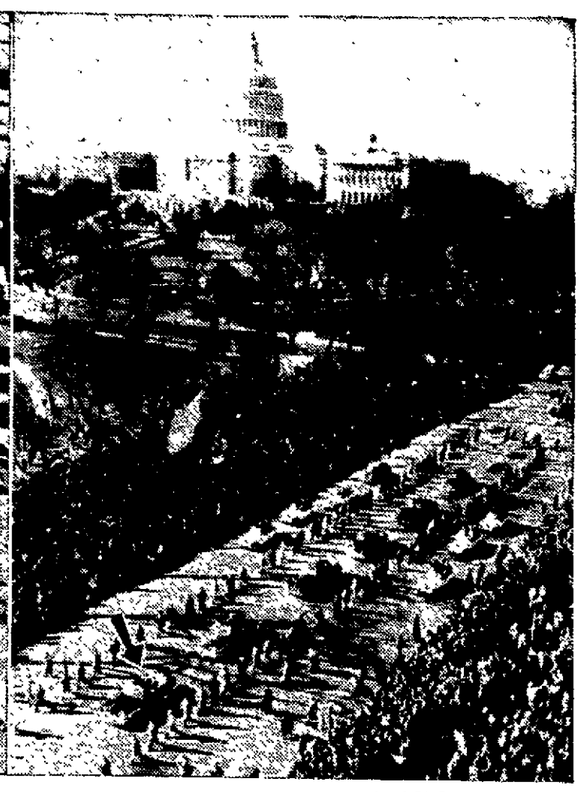
Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza saw in the speech a "magnificent cornerstone on which peace can be built."

Former French Premier Paul Reynaud said he was struck especially by the note of American "altruism."

But, the Communist Daily Worker in London sounded an expected discordant note in the general paean of praise.

The Daily Worker said: "Let Mr. Truman have at communism as he will. He speaks for a country which waxed fat and rich out of the war, and with not a bomb on its territory."

Soviet newspapers brushed off President Truman's inauguration speech with a 12-line report and no editorial comment.



THE MAN AND THE CROWD—After taking the oath of office as 33rd President of the United States and, pledging a global crusade for "peace, plenty and freedom" in a blistering inaugural speech denouncing Communism and war, Harry S. Truman rides in an inaugural parade witnessed by more persons than had seen all previous inaugurations combined. Thanks to television, an estimated 10,000,000 saw the ceremonies. More than 1,000,000 attended in person. Picture at left above shows the head of the inaugural parade. In the lead car are President Truman and Vice President Alben W. Barkley. Flanking the procession and wearing their arm bands are members of the honor escort, composed of Mr. Truman's World War I Company "D" buddies. Rebellion Hits Korea

SEOUL—(INS)—A bloody revolt was reported today to have broken out in communist verned north Korea and to have brought heavy fighting in the industrial city of Haeju.

Fires set by anti-communist "patriots" were engulfing Haeju as antagonistic factions within the north Korean army engaged in fierce battle on the city's streets, according to a south Korean government spokesman.

The official, Kim Dong Sung, said in Seoul that border reports indicated heavy firing was continuing inside Haeju which lies less than a mile above the border between communist - controlled north and American - occupied south Korea.

U. S. headquarters in Seoul said it had no immediate confirmation of the report of fighting in Haeju.

Bush Seeks Re-election

Paul Bush, president of council, today "broke the ice" by being the first to file his declaration of candidacy with the county board of elections.

Bush, who is serving his first term as president of council, seeks re-election to that post. He is a Republican.

Although a number of persons have taken out the declarations, no other declarations have been filed. The deadline for filing with the board for candidates for Mansfield city offices is Feb. 2.

Bush, has also served two terms as councilman from the Sixth ward, from 1942 to 1946. He is a supervisor at Westinghouse, and lives at 49 State street. Bush, a native of Morrow county, has lived in Mansfield since 1930. He is married and has one son, a student at Ohio State university.

Close Stock Mart

PARIS—(AP)—French Finance Minister Maurice Petsche unexpectedly ordered the Paris stock exchange closed today. It was announced at the same time that the cabinet had been summoned to a special meeting this afternoon.

Fight Looms On T-H Act

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The first showdown in the 81st Congress on repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor act comes today in the Senate Labor committee.

Sen. Pepper (D., Fla.), plans to submit a motion that the committee report out immediately for Senate action a bill repealing the law and re-enacting the Wagner act.

The move is certain to encounter stiff opposition from Sen. Taft (R., Ohio), and his four Republican colleagues on the committee. Taft is committed to a Senate fight against wholesale scrapping of the statute which bears his name.

Pepper's motion also may face resistance from Sen. Thomas (D., Utah), author of the repeal bill and chairman of the Senate labor group. Thomas has announced that he favors extensive hearings on new labor legislation.

Gets Stiff Penalty

DAYTON — (UP) — Clarence Lavern, 33, Miamisburg, today lost his right to drive in Ohio for the rest of his life following his third arrest on a drunken driving charge. Municipal Judge Paul Sherer also fined him a total of $500 and sentenced him to 30 days in the workhouse.

Adds to Busy Schedule

Inaugural Over But Truman Keeps Going

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The inaugural merry-go-round slowed down a bit today, but President Truman kept right on going.

The 64-year-old chief executive took on three additional functions after his dawn-to-midnight schedule of yesterday—and set aside time to work at his White House desk during the morning.

He made a date to attend a women's Democratic affair about 1 p m. (EST) and accepted an invitation to a reception at 5 p. m. given by his old friend John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury, Mrs. Snyder and their daughter, Drucie.

Mrs. Truman and the president's daughter, Margaret, were the other guests of honor at the Snyder party, in the Shoreham hotel.

The three Trumans planned to drop in on Vice President Barkley's inaugural ball tonight.

It was long after midnight when they left Mr. Truman's own inaugural ball in the National Guard armory.

That was the final event of an inaugural day tha started with a rollicking 7 a. m. breakfast with the men he commanded in the first world war—members of Battery D, 129th field artillery.

A quiet church service preceded his inauguration and the colossal parade he led to the White House from the capitol.

The entire West Point corps of cadets and Annapolis regiment of midshipmen, marching with the magnificient precision for which they are world famous, drew salvo after salvo of applause as they moved in impressive mass down storied Pennsylvania avenue.

VETERANS MARCH

Every element of the nation's armed forces was represented in the parade, helmeted veterans of W[illegible] War II combat, bronzed Bluejackets from the battle fleet, stalwart coast guardsmen, and trim cadets of the Merchant Marine.

Overhead, in a cloudless sky, n[illegible]y 650 airplanes formed a spectacular canopy for the mammoth inaugural pageant. Giant B-36's and lightning fast jet planes shipped above the parade and gave added thrills to the hundreds of

U. S. Troops Fired Upon

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, — (AP) — U. S. army headquarters said today Czechoslovak border guards fired on American constabulary troops yesterday. The Americans returned the fire, the army said.

The Americans were investigating a border crashing incident. No American casulty was reported.

The incident occurred 30 minutes after German border police and the occupants of a truck which crashed through road block had engaged in another gun duel. The truck driver was wounded in that fight, the army's report said.

An American constabulary patrol then went to the scene to investigate and was fired on by Czecholslovak border guards, the army said.

Bulletin

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(UP)—CIO United Auto Workers left their jobs at the Studebaker corporation plant here today over a wage dispute, and the company said virtually all production was at a standstill. A company spokesman said "nearly all of the 16,000 workers in the passenger car and truck divisions were idled."

New Cold Blast, Snow Due

While a new sub-zero wave and snowstorm hit the west today, the Mansfield area was promised a mixture of bad weather over the week end.

Rain was forecast tonight and tomorrow, and as the cold wave moves eastward Saturday, the rain is expected to change to snow, the weatherman said. It is expected to be considerably colder tomorrow night.

Sheep and cattle men in Nevada and Utah feared heavy loses of livestock as a result of the heavy snow and continued cold weather.

At Salt Lake City, experts warned that Utah's 1,616,000 sheep were undergoing a "calamity" because their ranges had been covered by the deep snow.

Director Marion Clawson of the federal bureau of land management said it was "impossible to exaggerate" the peril to flocks. Other experts warned that meat prices would climb if the snow resulted in starvation for many sheep.

Early morning sub-zero marks in the extreme cold belt included 36 at Bozeman, Mont.; 32 at Philip, S. D.; 31 at Bismark N. D.; 31 at Havre, Mont.; 28 at Mobridge, S. D.; 21 at Scottsbluff, Neb.; 20 at Sheridan and Douglas, Wyo.

The Dakotas didn't have temperatures above the zero mark yesterday and federal forecasters predicted another day when the mercury wouldn't climb much above zero. The highest reading in Bismarck, N. D., yesterday was 14 below.

Wage Bill Prepared

Higher Minimum Rate In Sight

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Lesinski (D) Mich., announced details today of an administration bill to boost the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour and extend coverage to thousands of additional workers.

The chairman of the House Labor committee is expected to press for House passage possibly next week to make the measure the first of President Truman's program to obtain congressional approval.

The most far-reaching change contained in the draft prepared by Lesinski is one which would bring any retail establishment doing over $500,000 business annually under the terms of the minimum wage and hour legislation.

The bill also would amend the original 1938 statute to provide coverage not only for industries engaged in interstate commerce but also those "in activities affecting commerce."

It would confer broader powers on the secretary of labor including many of those now exercised by the wage-hour administrator.

Wants Ohio To Receive 'Lost Acre'

HARTFORD — (INS) — A bill was before the Connecticut legislature today to "further the good neighbor policy" by returning an acre of land owned by Connecticut in Ohio to the Buckeye state.

The land, originally a part of the Connecticut Western Reserve, reverted to the Nutmeg state legally two months ago when Jackson township, Ohio, stopped using it for educational purposes.

At that time, several persons in both states offered bids ranging as high as $300 for the acre.

Today, however, Connecticut House majority leader George C. Conway introduced a bill to present Ohio with a quit claim deed to the land.

Sentenced For Dodging Draft

TOLEDO — (INS) — Charles R. Rickert, 21-year-old senior at Bluffton college, has been sentenced to 18 months in federal prison for violating of the draft act.

Judge Frank L. Kloeb, Toledo federal judge, found Rickert guilty yesterday and imposed sentence.

Rickert was the first person in the Toledo area to be prosecuted for failing to register under the Selective Service act of 1948.

Clears Way For Peace

Reds Reject Cease-Fire

NANKING —(UP)— Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek retired as president of China today and turned the reins of government over to Vice President Li Tsung-Jen, an ardent advocate of peace with the communists.

In retiring Chiang left open a way to return to his leadership of Nationalist China if peace talks failed. He used a Chinese word meaning "temporary leave of absence" rather than announcing his outright resignation.

Chiang then boarded his private plane and left Nanking in a dramatic flight into exile. He stopped first at Hangchow, 150 miles south of Nanking, to make a motor trip to his home town of Fenghua, in Chekiang province.

Two hours after Chiang's departure the communist radio rejected the Nationalist government's appeal for a cease-fire and said that any peace conference must be held before the end of hostilities.

The communist broadcast although made after Chiang left Nanking, obviously had been prepared before it was known that Chiang was relinquishing his 21-year-rule of Nationalist China.

Chiang said in a 300-word statement announcing his decision to step down that he was leaving Nanking in an effort to help speed the Nationalist government's peace talks with the communists. It was considered almost certain that the communists would refuse to discuss peace so long as Chiang headed the government.

LI TAKES OVER

It was not known whether Vice President Li would be formally inducted into office as president. In a brief statement Li said he was "obliged" to take over the presidential duties under Article 49 of the Chinese constitution.

This article provides that the vice president shall assume the duties of president in case the president resigns or is unable to carry out his duties for other reasons.

Chiang in his farewell statement urged the government, the people and all public leaders to give their complete cooperation to Li in his efforts to obtain an early peace with the communists.

An official source said that Madame Chiang, now in New York on a visit to the United States, would return to China soon to join her husband in exile.

The communist rejection of the government's cease-fire appeal was made by an unidentified spokesman in a Chinese language broadcast heard in Shanghai.

Begin Work In Spring

Ground will be broken for the new First Congregational church, Marion avenue and Millsboro road, not later than Easter Sunday, April 17, Harry B. Soulen, chairman of the building committee, said today.

It is possible the first spadeful of earth will be turned before Easter, Soulen said.

At a meeting last night of the building committee, plans and specifications prepared by the Thomas and Wagoner firm of architects in Philadelphia, were studied and a few changes made, some for economy's sake, Soulen said.

It is expected that these plans will be sent immediately to the Philadelphia firm. Members of the building committee will ask that the changes be made and returned in time for the advertising of bids between Feb. 15 and March 15.

The campaign for funds, which has been under way since fall under the direction of Judge Herbert H. Schettler, is about completed, Soulen said that with the money on hand and the funds raised during the campaign, the committee expects to have between $375,000 and $400,000 to spend for the new church home.

Lamb Case Cited to Show FCC Laxness

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A special congressional investigating committee has just handed down a 10,000 word report that finds the Federal Communications commission has usurped judicial and legislative powers, seeks to control radio programs and "browbeats" radio applicants—charges which go even beyond those set forth by The News-Journal last year. This is the fifth of a series of rticles in the report.)

Toledo Lawyer Edward Lamb, holder of several radio station licenses, was cited by the Congressional select committee investigating the Federal Communications commission as a prime example of failure of the FCC to properly investigate applicants before granting radio permits.

Lawyer Lamb is the man who obtained a license to start a radio station in Mansfield, then voluntarily surrendered it after the News-Journal brought to light Lamb's record and the facts of his deals with the FCC.

It was granting of radio licenses to Lamb which caused Rep. F. Edward Herbert, fiery Louisiana Democrat, to denounce Lamb and the FCC on the floor of the House last May 5.

At that time Rep. Herbert asserted that Lamb had "one of the most expansive records of association with the communist party in America, front organizations, and fellow travelers of anybody to come to the (un-American Activities) committee's attention."

In general, the select committee's investigation of Lamb as a radio license recipient bears out in great detail the disclosures about the Toledo lawyer which this newspaper made last year. The committee's report states:

"Your committee was charged to make inquiry as to whether the Commission (FCC) has licensed, or proposed to license, any radio station or stations owned or controlled by persons who are members of, or affiliated with, subversive or communist front organizations or who might permit the facilities of such radio stations to be used contrary to the public interest.

Madison 5 Seeks No. 7 At Kenton

The Madison high school basketball team was scheduled to leave early this afternoon for Kenton where it will go after its seventh victory in ten games tonight.

Although boasting a slightly better record than the oposition, the Rams rate as a decided underdog in the clash with the big Class A school. Kenton competes with some of the better 'A' schools in the western part of the state and has won five of nine games.

LOSE TO TWO

Madison, meanwhile has met only five 'A' schools and has lost to two—Willard and Akron South.

The Rams base most of their hopes on the possibility of their sophomore scoring star, Ed Chelski, having a hot night. Chelski leads the team in scoring with 11.8 average, and is capable of hitting up to 20 points per game.

One thing that may hamper the Rams is the large size of the Kenton floor. Madison's zone defense works like a charm on its own smaller court but may have trouble plugging all the holes on a big floor.

Ontario High Cage Team Seeks 10th Loop Victory

Ontario will go after its tenth straight Richland County league victory tonight when it invades Lucas which has what is probably the fastest improving team in the circuit.

Lucas has one of the few teams in the league which is big enough to give the Warriors a battle for rebounds and might well be the team to upset the winning streak.

Butler travels to Lexington in another game which could turn into an upset. Like Lucas, Butler has been coming fast of late and will be strengthened tonight by the addition of forward Bill Allen, a letterman of last year who was ineligible for the first half of the season.

On the other hand, Coach Vern Chaney's men lost their No. 1 guard, Ted Brokaw, with a sprained ankle last week.

In other games tonight, Plymouth looks like a cinch to take over sixth place when they travel to Shiloh. Union, which is tied with Plymouth, must face the powerful Bellville Blue Jays in their home nest.

Heidelberg Nips Ashland College Cage Club, 56-55

(By Associated Press)

Six Ohio college basketball teams clashed in three contests last night—and the three losing fives each scored 55 points.

Toledo defeated Baldwin Wallace 57 to 55, Muskingum handed Mt. Union a 78 to 55 loss, and Heidelberg won over Ashland 56 to 55.

In Toledo, the Rockets edged the Berans in a hard-fought game in which the lead changed hands three times. The score was tied once, at 25 all, in the second period, but Toledo held a 31 to 30 margin at intermission.

GETS SLIGHT BULGE

The count was tied again at 44-all at the start of the final quarter and the teams were deadlocked again at 46-all a few minutes later. Toledo got a 47 to 46 margin midway in the final period and the Rockers were never headed.

Heidelberg survived a last minute rally by Ashland to win by one point. The Studen Princes were leading 56 to 40 with 24 seconds to play when Ashland opened up an offensive which fell short by one point of deadlocking the score.

Lou Bonvechio led his Muskingum college team to the victory over Mt. Union, by scoring 21 points. Muskingum led 32 to 20 at half time.

Nine Women Feature Pin League Play

The women made the bowling news last night as they evidently tried to do something about the recent influx of high scores among the men.

None of the fairer sex rolled anything sensational but the nine women over 500 in one night established some sort of a record. Eight of the 500 scores were in the Women's Commercial A league.

Arlene Peters of PD's Bar was the top woman kegler as she fired a 535 series with games of 175, 183 and 177. Others hitting the 500 mark in the loop were: Evelyn Marshman, Lemley's Cleaners, 530; Haxel Hilborn, Outlet Furs, 514; Sue Humphrey, Ohio Sport Center, 505; Dot McDevitt, Sport Center, 502; Mary Dintaman, City News, and Helen Wilhelm, Lemley's Cleaners, 501, and Thelma Cox, Mansfield Frosted Foods, 500.

* * *

The ninth woman to go over the 500 mark was Betty Miller of Tappan Stove in the Industrial league. She had 174-174-167—515. Runner-up score in that circuit fell all the way to a 447 by Louise Bush. Carmin McIntire had a 440.

★

Art Hilborn, Colony alley manager, pounded out a 216-235-186—637 for the top in the Commercial B league score of the night. Farrell Hipp, his Yuncker's teammate hit the only other honor roll score, a 191-189-223—603.

Some of the bowlers who didn't score made as much news as those who did. Nick Weber, who got a 676 for the best score of his career the night before, fell to 171-157-151—479, and took quite a ribbing from his Liederkranz mates.

Jim Dunn of Ringside made news by what he didn't do. Dunn led off with 155 and 171 but followed with the poorest game in the league, 98.

Cliff Forsythe, Ringside, hit 584; Darrell McCullough, Dearman's, 581, J. Villella, Rose Bowl, 578, Harold Selby, Liederkranz, 577 and George Condos Lions club, 566. Condos had games of 200-210-156.

Sport Center Goes Into 'A' Loop Lead

Ohio Sport Center backed into first place in the City A basketball league last night as the only other undefeated team, Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, bowed 42-34 to Komito's.

Komito's, led by Stretch Regula's 12 points and Don Hardy's 11, left little doubt about its intentions as it jumped into an 11-6 lead in the first quarter. Penn was never in front after that as the winners outscored it in every period but the fourth.

Rogers Jewelry beat Yuncker's, 45-35, and Urschel Insurance whipped Martin Hardware, 41-36, in other games on the card.

Leading scorer of the night was Lucas of Yuncker's with 17 points while Nick Gagich of Urschel's tallied 16 and Ed Chatlain of Martin Hardware, 15.

John Simpson Breaks Long Losing Streak

By BILL M'CULLOUGH

LEXINGTON— John Simpson's junior high basketball team broke a five-game losing streak here last night at it tripped up a fine Lexington reserve team, 30-15.

Simpson jumped into a quick 4-0 lead and was never behind. It led at the quarters, 6-2, 9-5, 21-10, and 30-15.

Benny Carbetta led the Bulldog scoring column with four field goals and two free throws for a total of 10 points. Two other Simpson players, Bob Milligan, and Bill Semenoff had eight points each.

Simpson outscored its opponents from the field, 12-5 and made six of 11 foul shots to 5 of 14, for Lexington.

In the preliminary contest, the Simpson reserves took their fourth game in five starts as they whipped the Lexington 7th and 8th graders, 48-14. Jones had 14 points for the winners and Walker 11.

Senior High Hosts Akron North Team

Despite another starting lineup shift, the Mansfield Senior high Tygers must be favored over the Akron North Vikings in their basketball clash tomorrow night on the Bengal floor.

Senior high has proven almost invincible on its home court in recent years and right now is riding the crest of 16 straight victories in the Tyger lair. Five of the victories have been achieved this season.

Away from home Senior high has dropped five of six contests to make the seasonal record six wins and five defeats.

SCHMITT MAY START

The lineup change will probably send Ed Schmitt, lanky junior, in at forward instead of Letterman Ed Demyan. The latter performer is temporarily off the squad to raise his grades. In case Schmitt doesn't start, Willie Fowler, another junior, will get the call. Both have been regulars from time to time this season.

Akron will try to rely on speed and hussle to take over the big Tyger team. Mansfield averages over the six-foot mark while not one member of the Vikings starting cast hits more than 5-11.

In eight games this season, North has broken even. The Rubber city crew has only two lettermen and has averaged 39.3 points to 41.8 for the opposition. Al Letta and Dick Gowin are the North veterans. Gowin has 44 field goals and 18 free throws for 106 points, an average of 13.3 a game. Gowin is fifth in the individual scoring race among 18 Akron area high schools.

SCORING DATA

Other North scoring marks are: Letta,58; Bragg,46; Sharp, 37 Sykes, 31; Pickering, 21; Donley, 8 and Protich, 6.

North plays at Akron Buchtel tonight. The Buchtel team has won eight and lost three.

Three Games On Ram Court

A triple-header basketball program involving four Madison township teams and two from Butler will be staged in the Madison high school gym tomorrow night.

Mitsch's Corner Store (the Madison Alumni) will meet the Butler Boosters in the 8:30 p.m. feature game following a pair of games between junior high teams. Lincoln Heights will meet Woodville in the 6:30 opening contest while East Mansfield plays the Butler eighth graders in the other.

Mitsch's has won 13 games and lost one. Its first defeat came at Greenwich, 45-42, last Saturday night.

Galion Cagers Battle Sunday

GALION — The Galion stars basketball team will meet the at 3 p.m. at the Galion armory.

Chic Skelley coaches the Galion quintet which features: Bob and Bill Neff, Jack Herbick, Lowell Maison, Dick and Gene Plummer, Lynn Heskett, George Treisch, Jim Corbett, Don Ricketts, Stretch Zahn, Frank Stansbury and Dan Benham.

The Cleveland team is made up of ex-college players and towers well over the six-foot mark. Tickets are on sale at Bob's News. The Old Corner and Smoke House.

Trautman College Closes Business

COLUMBUS — (AP) — "Trautman's college" for minor league baseball executives closes its doors today for the least a couple of years.

George M. Trautman, president of the National association of bush loops, said the front office help was now "highly educated" in baseball paper work procedure" and that the annual five-day conference would be abandoned for a while.

Minnesota Guns For 14th Win

CHICAGO, — (UP) — Minnesota's big nine basketball ers were rated a 13-point favorite today to defeat Indiana tomorrow and preserve an undefeated record of 13 wins, five of them in conference play.

A triumph would give the gophers a two-game advantage in the win column over Illinois, also undefeated in league play, and perhaps set up a championship conference game at Champaign Jan. 22.

Illinois will return to the hardwood that night afte. a two-week layoff for semester examinations, and Minnesota will be coming on the court after a one-week rest.

Indiana's speedy sophomores could give the gophers a terrific scrap, even at Minneapolis, but Minnesota had to be rated the favorite.

The Hoosiers hold a 2-2 record in league play, but one of their losses was a 44-42 double overtime decision to Illinois at Bloomington. Last Monday, Indiana smashed Purdue, another tough league opponent, at Bloomington.

If the Hoosiers have a hot night at Minneapolis and the gophers turn up a poor performance, which was rather unexected. Indiana could turn in the upset of the year.

Minnesota will rely on center Jim McIntyre and forwards Whitey Skoog and Bud Grant, thus far. McIntyre has had only one bad night, but Skoog and Grant threw in the points for another win on that occasion.

In other big nine games on tomorrow's program. Iowa will meet Northwestern in the Chicago stadium as part of a double-header, and Purdue plays at Ohio State.

The Wildcats were given a seven-point edge over Iowa, while Ohio State, playing at home and probably with star forward Dick Schnittker available for some service after an illness which kept him out of two games, was rated six points better than Purdue.

New Barons Join Squad For Clash

Three new members of the Cleveland hockey team were scheduled to join the squad in Springfield today as the barons work out for their game with the indians tomorrow night.

The appearance of center Ken Schultz and twin brothers Dan and Frank Porteous, acquired from the Washington lions, seems to complete the team's forward lines. Only the return of injured defenseman Tom Williams will see the barons at full strength.

AAC Wants Grid Peace But No League Merger

Conflicting News Made In Pro Grid

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Peace machinery between the National Football league and the All-America conference appeared to have bogged down today without producing results.

Even plans for AAC operations in 1949 apparently have been stymied. After three days of secret sessions, several confusing and conflicting announcements have been made by the AAC, which represents the total sum of its work.

"We have hopes for peace," and "the AAC will operate in 1949,"—those have been the only statements issued. Neither announcement, however, had shown signs of becoming fact last night when the AAC ended another fruitless parley which started two hours late when Dan Topping of the New York Yankees and Art McBride, of Cleveland, were mysteriously late in appearing.

TWO MORE TARDY

Ven Lindheimer of the Los Angeles Dons and Tony Morabito of San Francisco also were tardy for the session which had been heralded as "an important and significant meeting".

The conclave broke up about as soon as it began.

Earlier, the grapevine had it that behind the scenes peace talks were beginning to jell and the end of the three-year-old $8,000,000 war was in sight.

It was guessed that ringleaders of both leagues apparently had held their first big parley. George Halas of the NFL Chicago Bears, was said to be the contact man, but he refused to comment specifically. Significantly, however, Halas declared flatly that "the peace hope has evaporated."

NO APPROACH YET

Ostensibly, AAC officials scheduled their meeting as an annual winter business session, but such routine items as schedules, franchises, television policies and so forth have not yet been approached.

Meanwhile, the NFL has gone along under the heading of "business as usual." In its opening session yesterday, owners decided that the televising of the NFL games in 1949 would be an optional matter with each club. Commissioner Bert Bell was granted a new 10-year contract at $30,000 annually—no appreciable raise. He had three years to go on a pact given him in 1947.

'Appleseeders Grind Out Win Over Shelby 5

Johnny Appleseed junior high won its fifth game in eight starts yesterday afternoon, defeating the Shelby reserves, 26-16, in the Applesed gym.

A big third quarter sewed up the game for the Pioneers after they had trailed at the half, 26-16. They outscored Shelby, 12-4, in the third period and had no trouble thereafter.

Joe Diemer led Appleseed with 10 points while the usual high scorers, Freddy Zahn and Dave Schwen, were held to four and three points respectively.

Joe's brother, Bob Diemer, dropped in eight points to lead the reserves to a 22-8 conquest of the Shelby eighth graders.

Sanders Takes UCLA Grid Job

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Henry R. (Red) Sanders, reluctantly released by Vanderbilt university, prepared today to take over the football reins at UCLA—one of the nation's stormiest grid centers.

Sanders, head coach at Vanderbilt since 1940, was named to the UCLA post last night—and then sweated it out while Vandy officials reportedly made him a lucrative counter-offer, and finally released him from the remaining four years of his contract.

While UCLA Athletic Director Wilbur Johns did not disclose terms, it was reliably reported that Sanders moves west on a three year contract calling for no less than $15,000 a year.

Hot Stove Group Sets First Plans

Initial plans for the Hot Stove league's 1949 Hot Stove league program were setup last night at the city building.

The sport booster group sponsors Mansfield's junior baseball program.

Jimmy Lymper was named promotional director of the group while Stan Kamen, Luther McCally and Gene Hartnett were placed on the nominating committee. Officers for 1949 will be elected at the next meeting, Feb. 3.

Turns Down Offer

SOUTH BEND, IND., — (UP) — Football coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame indicated today that he was not interested in an offer to coach the professional Washington Redskins for a reported salary of $50,000.

FACES SLARY SLASH—Walker Cooper, catcher for the New York Giants, doesn't appear worried in this picture taken at his home in Buckner, Mo., but the hefty baseball player has his troubles. He says he's satisfied with his recovery from a knee injury, but has learned the Giants are planning to trim his salary this year.—(AP Wirephoto)

'Defensive' Oklahoma Club Surprises Bills, 29 to 27

STILLWATER, Okla.—(AP)—Folks down here say it takes a miracle for a basketball team to whip the Oklahoma A&M Aggies on their home floor.

And today the St. Louis university Billikens, rated the nation's No. 1 squad, are thinking it—if not saying it, too.

Last night a standing-room-only crowd of 9,600 saw the Aggies topple the Bills from the country's unbeaten ranks by the low, narrow score of 29 to 27 in a one-period overtime game.

The Aggies, ranked No. 5 in the Associated Press first nationwide basketball poll, have lost only two games out of 136 played here in 14 years. The first one was in 1946, the other one this year. DePaul did it both times.

A. & M. trailed 14 to 12 at the halftime.

The Aggies didn't even go into the lead until seven minutes of the second half had been played.

KNOTS THE SCORE

The Oklahomans' five-foot nine-inch sophomore guard, Norman Pilgrim, knotted the score at 19-all on a free throw and then A. & M. took a one-point margin on another by Vernon Yates.

The lead changed three times before the overtime period began with the score at 25-all.

J. L. Parks counted a field goal within a minute to send the locals ahead. A. & M.'s Jack Shelton, substitute center, followed with another two points.

The scoring was closed out when "Easy" Ed MacAuley, St. Louis's mighty center, found the net for two points.

A. & M. won the game with only the part-time services of its ramrod, Center Bob Harris. He fouled out trying to smother the Billikens' MacAuley.

National Cuts Player Limit

CHICAGO, — (INS) — National football league clubs will operate with only 32 players each next season, instead of the former total of 35.

This economy-minded move was the highlight of action taken yesterday at the annual winter meeting of the N.F.L.

Other notable action:

1. The free substitution rule will prevail on a trial basis in 1949.

2. Individual-game guarantees for visiting clubs are upped from $15,000 to $20,000, with option of 40 per cent of the net gate.

3. Clubs may televise home games at their own discretion.

Notre Dame Chooses Ends as Co-Captains

SOUTH BEND, Ind, — (UP) — Leon Hart and James Martin, junior ends, will captain the 1949 Notre Dame football team.

The two stars were named co-captains of the Irish gridders at the annual team banquet last night. Hart comes from Turtle Creek, Pa., and Martin's home is Cleveland.

Track, Field Coaches Plan Six Clinics

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio track coaches and officials will be brought up to date on the latest track developments at six clinics, to be held this winter by the Ohio Association of Track Coaches.

Barker said proper starting will be the major topic of discussion.

Dates and places of the clinics, together with officials in charge, follow:

Northwestern District—Feb. 5 at Bowling Green university, A. W. Hendricks of Clyde high school; southwestern district—Feb. 12 tentatively at the University of Dayton, Dave Albritton of Dunbar high school, Dayton; central district—March 25 at Upper Arlington high school, Richard A. Larkin, Upper Arlington high school; southeastern district—Feb. 19 at Ohio university, Athens, James Johnson of Ohio university; state wide clinic, Feb. 22, Ohio State university, Larry Snyder and George Haney of Ohio State university; Northeastern district Feb. 26, Kent State university, Sim Earich of Warren.

Veeck Predicts Tribe Will Repeat In 1949

NEW YORK —(INS)— Cleveland baseball president Bill Veeck made a "rubber stamp" prediction today that the 1949 American League pennant race will end the same way it did last year.

Veeck said it will be Cleveland, Boston, and New York, in that order with Philadelphia rounding out the first division.

'Cat Sophs May Be Surprise

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Northwestern's cagy sophomores, winners of only two out of nine basketball games this year, are going to surprise a few of the big shots some time this season.

That information comes straight from Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, the Wildcats court coach now in his 22nd season of directing the fortunes of northwestern basketball teams.

"We've had a second half ball club so far," Lonborg said. "The kids seem to relax and go along then and play their own ball game. I've been telling them to try to stay close in the first half and we'll beat them in the second."

Lonborg started the season with co-Captain Bill Sticklen at one forward post and four sophomores. Forward Don Blasius, Center Ray Ragelis, and Guards Dave Allen and Jake Fendley, the other regulars.

The newcomers have been erratic. Blasius came through against Michigan for his best shooting of the season, ending up with 15 points.

"I think Don has got his shot now," Dutch said, "and he's going to be a real good boy."

But Lonborg is still waiting for the other three to get their form.

"Fendley," he said, "is the type of ball player I like. He won't make a lot of points, but he's real aggressive and fast, and when his shot comes, he's going to be very valuable."

Ragelis has been the most erratic of the sophomores, but Dutch believed that the last time out, against Michigan, his game was improved and his shooting showed signs of development.

About Allen, Lonborg was uncertain.

"Dave has all the qualities, but his shot hasn't come either," he said, "and he still favors the ankle he injured last month. But he's going to be a big help one of these days."

Lonborg thinks by February they'll be ready to give some of the top teams of the midwest a tough struggle.

The Wildcats' only victories this year have been over Navy, a victim by 25 points which has remained undefeated in its own territory, and Southern California, one of the good west coast teams.

In conference play Northwestern has dropped its two starts to Ohio State and Michigan. This Saturday the Wildcats tangle with Iowa at the Chicago stadium, and if the youngsters jell then, it'll be a bad night for the Hawkeyes.

Louis Wants Half Or He Won't Fight

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— A spokesman for Joe Louis said today that the heavyweight champion will ask $400,000, plus half the gross receipts and half the television, radio, and movie receipts to defend his title.

Jaycee-Sponsored Show Features Vaudeville Acts

A new edition of "The Best is Yet to Come" shows will be presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night in the Senior high school auditorium.

The stage production will be topped by Cris Cross's band. There will be 10 acts of vaudeville.

Among the acts scheduled are Fred Ketch and his ventriloquist's dummy, Jerry J. Jeri; Dolly Barr who performs acrobatics on a bicycle; tap dancers Tommy and Jeanne Mahoney; the trombonist-comedian, Larry Collins; vocalist Sunny Chambers, billed as "The Television Songbird; the Dayton Brothers, comedians; John Regan, boomerang and bull whip artist, and Burns' Bird Act.

A highlight of the evening's program will be the naming of another "Mansfield Citizen of the Month", the title awarded some Mansfield man or woman who is contributing outstanding service to the community. A board of judges makes the selection.

Funds from the Jaycee shows are used for community projects, latest of which is the construction of ice skating ponds at the Fairground and city parks.

Liquor Permit Chief Named

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Charles E. Murphy, of Cincinnati, is the new chief of the permit examiner's division of the State Liquor department.

Murphy's appointment to the $375-a-month job was announced late Wednesday by Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner.

A former member of the Cincinnati police department, Murphy served as a special agent with military intelligence during World War II.

Foxes Biting Dogs; Dogs Quarantined

ATHENS — (INS) — A quarantine was in effect today for all Dogs in Athens county.

Officials said the measure was put into effect because of a recent outbreak of rabies in foxes. Several dogs are reported to have been bitten last week.

Sheep Flocks Increased

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Feeder lambs and breeding ewes—numbering 75,000 head—were brought into the eastern corn belt last year to offset an 80-year low in sheep flocks, the Producers Livestock Co-operative association, has announced.

The association operates 20 markets in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania. It reported imports from eastern states were part of its $147,785,025 total business volume last year.

The import was "particularly significant" because they will serve as foundation flocks to provide an increased number of quality native lambs, association officials said.

Officials of the marketing organization said facilities were secured during the year at Bellefontaine and Greenville, and two additional stockyards were purchased at Wapakoneta and Greenfield.

Markets of the Producers Livestock Co-operative association are located at Columbus, Pittsburgh, Pa., Marion, Cleveland, Findlay, Wapakoneta, Wilmington, Washington Court House, Bucyrus, South Charleston, Lancaster, Coshocton, Mount Vernon, Toledo, Hicksville, Greenville, Ottawa, Bellefontaine, Greenfield and Washington, Ind.

U. S. to Grant Full Recognition to New Military Regimes

Give OK to Venezuela, El Salvador

Israel Next On Approved List

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The United States is ready to grant full diplomatic recognition to the new military regimes in Venezuela and El Salvador, according to reliable informants.

The twin diplomatic moves are expected to be announced "very soon—perhaps later today," these sources said.

Similar recognition also is planned for the new state of Israel. Officials said only an upset victory by the small Israeli communist party would delay full recognition following next Tuesday's elections in Israel.

The decision to recognize the revolutionary governments in Venezuela and El Salvador was reached only after careful White House and state department study, informants said. Some apprehension had been voiced over the possibility that quick recognition of governments installed by coups might touch off new revolts elsewhere in this hemisphere.

Officials said, however, that failure, to recognize the two governments would seriously hamper hemispheric cooperation and hurt U. S. business interests in Central and South America.

Venezuelan President Romulo Gallegos was ousted in a military coup last Nov. 24. Several weeks later, a similar revolt installed a new regime in El Salvador.

Officials emphasized that the plan to recognize the two nations did not imply American support of or agreement with the domestic policies of those governments.

Chicken Pox Outbreak Hits City

Dr. Wain Gives Tips On Control of Disease

Parents of elementary school children were warned today to be on their guard against chicken pox.

The warning was issued by Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, following reports that a large number of Mansfield school children have contracted the disease.

"Chicken pox is prevalent, but the situation is not too alarming," he said. "The disease, like other childhood diseases, appears to go in cycles, and Mansfield must be at the peak of a cycle," Dr. Wain declared.

Parents should watch for symptoms of chicken pox while the infection rate is high, he said. The symptoms are chills, vomiting and temperatures of 101 and 102 degrees. The rash which follows always starts on the body, and then spreads to the child's face in some cases, the health commissioner said.

When the symptoms appear the child should be put to bed and kept on a light diet, Dr. Wain explained. The family physician should be called. Dr. Wain stressed the importance of keeping the patient isolated since the disease is highly contagious. All cases of chicken pox should be reported to the health department, he said.

WARNS OF SCARS

He warned parents to make sure their children do not scratch or touch the rash when it begins to appear. If let alone the rash will leave no permanent marks, but if scratched it may leave scars and lead to infection, he said.

No accurate figures on the number of current cases could be given, Dr. Wain said, because many of them are not reported.

As far as other diseases are concerned there is no particular cause for alarm, he said. He reported measles are low with only a few scattered cases of German measles reported to the health office. The last severe epidemic of measles occurred last spring, he said.

Since common colds are not reported, there is no way of determining how widespread they are at present, Dr. Wain said. However, he added, he did not believe colds were more prevalent than they normally would be at this season. A few cases of flu, some of them the intestinal type, have been reported, he said.

First WAC Enlists At Army Center

Miss Hatfield Goes To Virginia Camp

The first Mansfield girl to join the peacetime Women's Army was sworn in yesterday.

Miss Betty Hatfield, 112 Bowman street, said she joined up because "I like the idea of a uniform."

The 20-year-old brunette took the oath that will make her a member of the WAC for three years yesterday afternoon at the Mansfield Army recruiting center.

She was employed as a cashier by the A. and P. market on Bowman street recently. She came to Mansfield one and one-half years ago from Fredericktown where she was graduated from high school in June, 1947.

She was to leave for Camp Lee, Va., for basic training today. She hopes to become a physical director in the corps, she said, explaining that she would rather do something that keeps her outdoors.

Ace Woman Reporter Invades Former All-Male Association

COLUMBUS — (AP) — One of the last stag-precincts of capital newspapermen has been invaded by a woman.

Miss Jean Douglas, a political reporter for the Toledo Blade, has become the first of her sex to be admitted to membership in the Ohio Legislative Correspondents association.

The association, composed of newspapermen who cover the Ohio legislature, had functioned since way back when as a strictly male club.

But when Miss Douglas appeared in the state house two weeks ago, with a job of telling her paper's readers what Ohio lawmakers are doing, she had to obtain floor privileges in the Senate and House. The Correspondents association, in behalf of the legislature's officers, arranges for these privileges.

H. H. (Doc) Daugherty, president of the association, and the other oldtimers in the capitol press room took one look at the attractive goldenhaired miss from Toledo and agreed:

"We think she would provide a much-needed decoration for these quarters."

So Miss Douglas, who has been on the Blade staff for four years, was voted into the association.

The new member has degrees from Toledo and Ohio State universities and once taught school in Detroit. She is a native of Glasgow, Scotland.

Bayer Chosen Board Head

Attorney Joseph A. Bayer has been elected president of the Richland county law library board. Bayer takes the position held by the late L. H. Beam, who was president of the board for 34 years.

Thomas J. McDermott was elected vice president and Claude F. Ewing, secretary. H. L. Creveling was named treasurer and librarian. Officers serve for one year.

Elected trustees to serve three-year terms were John O'Donnell, Marshall C. Moore and Bayer. McDermott was elected trustee to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Beam, which has a year to run.

Two Suits Ask $7,000

Rosa and Steve Briich, of 205 West Park boulevard, were named in two suits filed in Common Pleas court yesterday, asking a total of $7,000 in damages.

Asking $5,000 was Mrs. Margaret M. Saylor, of 459 West Third street. She claims she slipped and fell on ice in front of the defendant's property at the southwest corner of West Fourth street and West Park boulevard Jan. 22, 1947, injuring herself.

Mrs. Saylor claimed that ice had formed there because the defendants had permitted water seeping on their property to drain on the sidewalk.

Her husband, Clarence, filed an action for $2,000 for medical expenses and loss of services. Their attorneys are C. J. Kalbfleisch and H. Eugene Ryan.

Envelope Cost Up

Starting Feb. 1, Mansfielders who have been buying envelopes at the post office in quantities of a thousand or more, are going to pay an average of 68 cents per thousand more than in the past, according to Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford.

The amount of increase is dependent on the size of envelope, Ford said and in addition there will be an added increase for envelopes with a return address.

Ford also announced that booklets of 12 six-cent air mail stamps may now be purchased at the post office. These will sell for 73 cents, he said.

Chosen President

Earl E. Hudson, 619 Cline avenue, was elected president of the Union Association of Lumber, Sash, and Door Salesmen at its annual convention in Cleveland Wednesday. He served as vice president of the association last year.

ti... who stood or sat in brilliant sunshine.

The states of the union were represented with elaborate floats, all of them loudly applauded by the spectators.

Ohioans of both political parties said the state's float was a good one. It was bright blue, gold and silver and done in the theme "Ohio, Birthplace of Aviation." Five Ohio girls, wearing coats over thin formal dresses as protection against the cold, rode on the float.

The president and vice president reviewed the parade for the full three hours, sticking it out long after other spectators, including Mrs. Truman and Margaret, had called quits. Both men remained standing the whole time.

At 11:10 p. m., brisk and beaming, Mr. Truman showed his womenfolks into the glittering national guard armory for the big ball. He waved and smiled as the throng of 5,300 gave him a standing ovation and later he shook hands with numerous friends who visited the presidential box.

Among these were Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia university, and Mrs. Eisenhower, respendent in a white gown and a huge corsage of white orchids.

Lamb Case Cited to Show Laxness In FCC Investigation

"Your committee directed the committee staff to maks such inquiry. Time has not permitted a full and complete examination of all applicants. Some are now in the process of completion, others awaiting documentary proof. An example, however, of the failure of proper investigation by the committee is found in the case of Edward Lamb."

The committee then lists six radio applications made by Lamb, in addition to those for Mansfield and Springfield, O., which Lamb voluntarily surrendered, and points out how Lamb was able to get commission approval of the FCC very quickly.

The investigators then gave a brief resume of references to Lamb and his affiliations which appear in the fdes of the Congressional un-American Activities committee, including:

Lamb's affiliation with the International Labor Defense as vice-president, legal committee member and convention speaker. The report then states that the International Labor Defense "has been cited by both the Special Committee on un-American Activities and Atty. Gen. Biddle as 'the legal arm of the Communist party.'"

"Edward Lamb was also a member of the National Committee of The International Jurisdicial association, according to the pamphlet, 'What is the IJA?' The International Jurisdicial association was cited by the Special Committee on un-American Activities as 'A Communist front and an offshoot of the International Labor Defense.'"

The select committee report also cites a half-dozen other affiliations and actions by Lamb which appear in records of the un-American Activities committee and which show his connection over a period of years with organizations and activities which official government agencies have termed as communist-dominated or communist front groups.

Lamb's views on communism, and the manner in which facts about the Toledo lawyer were brought to the commission's attention also receive considerable space in the report of the committee. In all, the probers' report devotes approximately 3,000 words to the subject of Lamb.

(Tomorrow: The committee cites Lamb's book, "The Planned Society in Soviet Russia."

Atom Tools Seen Boon To Farming

Scientists See Enlarged Yields

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Scientists are trying to use atomic and other scientific tools to cut patterns for new and more profitable farm crops.

David E. Lilienthal, head of the Atomic Energy commission, says some experiments even may uncover ways to change cattle, possibly making them produce more milk or beefsteak—and faster.

Two new ways of tailor-making plants and animals to make them produce more, to make them resistant to disease and insects—in short, make them super stock hold great promise. They are:

1. Breeding to bring out the desirable characteristics of existing plants and animals. Some new information about this is available.

2. Using radioactivity to produce new individuals — both plants and animals—with more desirable and profitable characteristics. This may speed up breeding work, which frequently is a slow process when nature is left alone to do the job.

Lilienthal explains the new atomic experiments this way:

Scientists have known for a long time that if seed—or some living creatures—are exposed to radiation, such as x-ray, their genes may be changed.

Genes are the things in living cells that control what a parent hands down to its offspring.

Much more powerful radiation than x-ray now is available from the atomic plants. The big problem is to control the changes they produce in plants and creatures so desirable results can be obtained in the first or second generation.

Lilienthal says dozens of experiments that may aid farmers and seed and animal breeders are under way. The results of some will be available for the 1949 crop season.

Corn, peanuts and potatoes are being used. He predicts one peanut project may take five to seven years, a corn experiment three to four years. Some results with potatoes may be known within a few seasons.

Dr. Merle T. Jenkins, in charge of corn investigations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, sums up the other breeding projects this way:

All farmers know how hybrid corn seed increased American corn production since the beginning of the war. Such big corn crops have been produced, on less acreage, that several billions of dollars were added to the farm income in four years.

Jenkins says more great changes are coming. They probably won't increase corn yields as enormously as the introduction of hybrid seed, but the changes will be spectacular in other ways.

NOT PRESENT — Gen. George C. Marshall, shown above with his wife, was one of the few top ranking statesmen to miss the gala inauguration yesterday. Gen. Marshall was in Puerto Rico, recuperating from a long siege of illness. His tenure as secretary of state ended yesterday.

Note of Solemnity Sounded

DESPITE the circus-like atmosphere that prevailed in such large measure during the preliminaries and as a follow-up of the actual inauguration of Harry S. Truman as President of the United States; despite the extravagance of this ceremonial and the ostentatious display of wealth so ill-befitting this troublous period, due recognition was given at appropriate times of the need for divine guidance of those upon whom responsibility rests in directing the course of this nation toward the great goals of "peace, plenty and freedom," which the President proclaims as his objective.

Scheduled as a part of President Truman's program for yesterday, before his inauguration, was a private church service to which he was accompanied by Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret. Here the nation's chief executive engaged in prayer to God for help in performance of duties of his high office.

Three times during the impressive ceremonies attendant on the inauguration of Vice President Barkley and President Truman fervent prayers were spoken, each imploring aid from a supreme power in guiding the course of this nation to the fulfillment of the high purposes to which it is dedicated.

President Truman's inaugural address, in the simple language of a farm boy grown to greatness of position and responsibility, also evidenced the honesty and earnestness of intent with which he approaches the tasks that lie ahead, and there can be no doubt that, to the extent of his ability, he will seek the accomplishments which he envisions.

The opening words of the inaugural address are expressive of President Truman's feeling of dependence on others: "I accept with humility the honor which the American people have conferred upon me. I accept with a deep resolve to do all that I can for the welfare of this nation and for the peace of the world. . . . In performing the duties of my office, I need the help and prayers of every one of you. I ask for your encouragement and your support."

On the day before his inauguration President Truman said, during the course of another address: "I've always said there are a million men who can do my job as well or better than I can." That may or may not be true, but he is right in saying that he has the job to do, and is "going to do it."

A great strength of the United States of America lies in the freedom of its people to frankly express individual preferences in the selection of officials, and if this can be followed by united efforts to pursue a course best designed to promote domestic welfare and make the greatest possible contribution to the cause of world peace and harmonious international relations there is justification for greater confidence in the future than now appears.

Time To Consider Candidates

MARK DOWN February 2—a week from next Wednesday—as the final day for filing declarations of candidacy for Mansfield city offices, with nominations to be made at primaries on May 3, and officials to be elected in November.

It would appear that by now the responsible committees of both political parties would be giving careful consideration to potential candidates—particularly for the office of mayor—and that encouragement would be given to some capable persons to qualify for candidacy, rather than that nominations go by default to office-seekers who are quite often totally unfitted for the posts they aspire to gain or retain.

Following the national, state and county turn to support of Democratic candidates last November, it would seem particularly incumbent on Democratic leadership to make sure that confidence-inspiring candidates are presented at the May primaries.

While present remuneration of the mayor of Mansfield is only $5,300 a year, which may not be attractive to a person really qualified to hold that office, it may be that the opportunity for public service will appeal to someone who can be induced to become a candidate, if the field is thoroughly canvassed by those who recognize party responsibility for those who represent it in public office.

British Socialists Plan Next Step

THE NEXT proposed step toward Socialism in Great Britain, according to announcement, is the government acquisition of the steel business. How will this be accomplished? The plan is for the government to acquire the majority of the stock in each company, and leave the management unchanged. Companies theoretically will continue to compete as before.

The one difference is that it will be possible for the government to fit steel production into a particular pattern, to develop it in one section of the country and to reduce it elsewhere: in short, to introduce the element of planning.

The method will be not unlike that of control of the Bank of England, now under government control instead of being under the bankers. The operations of the bank remain the same, except that the government now has a majority of the stock. This is really less of a change than it seems, since for some time the bank has followed rather closely the wishes of the government in power.

It's Contrary to the Laws of Nature.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

WASHINGTON is preparing for a quiet weekend . . . The visitors have all returned home and once more the District abounds in familiar old Democratic faces.

* * *

But we Americans have been privileged to witness a rare happening . . . Not many free people can see the same party come to power every four years.

* * *

The inauguration passed off smoothly . . . At the part where the Chief Justice says "Does anyone have objection why this man and this job should not be joined?" no one said a word.

* * *

The floats were very attractive . . . Florida sent bathing beauties, California sent a ski run and New York was represented by a gap in the parade.

* * *

It isn't that any governor of New York was resentful but we have found better things to do with our money since the election.

* * *

The inaugural ball was excellent on television . . . The cameras moved in so close you could see the label "Rented From Louis" on the tuxedos.

About All Those Pledges

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—All the pledges a victorious President makes in his campaign, all the recommendations he submits later to Congress, all the exultant hurrah of his followers at his inauguration are only so good, in the end, as Congress, itself, makes them.

That is President Truman's problem after the excitement of inaugural week subsides. For that, it may be said, his situation is much more favorable than it has been before, as an analysis of the new Congress reveals.

He has another problem in which he is more directly involved personally, which often is not taken into proper account but which ultimately can have much to do with the direction of his administration.

That relates to the various independent commissions set up by Congress from time to time and delegated by Congress to regulate various phases of our national economy under laws passed by Congress.

This "commission" government attracts little public notice, but it is most important, for these commissions have wide discretion. They have power, through administrative interpretations, to dilute the purposes of Congress.

They can be passive in the public interest, or aggressive. Figuratively, a law can be repealed by shuffling the personnel of a commission.

At the present time there are a number of vacancies on important commissions that administer laws fixing all sorts of policies, some passed long ago, some in the New Deal era which President Truman has pledged himself to continue under his "Fair Deal."

There is much pulling and hauling now behind the scenes by conflicting interests over appointment to fill these vacancies. Progressives in the administration and Congress, who consider that they won the last election, are watching very closely to see how strongly their viewpoint and philosophy will be reflected in President Truman's selections, or, as they put it, whether they really won the election.

* * *

Clashing Interests.

THERE is, for example, one vacancy on the five-member federal trade commission, created in the Woodrow Wilson administration, that has its part in enforcement of statutes against monopoly which President Truman has promised to curb and restrain.

All sorts of interests are clashing now over the filling of a vacancy on the eleven-member interstate commerce commission, which regulates the railroads, caused by the recent death of George M. Barnard, who was from Indiana.

Every section of the country has candidates for this place, revealing geographical conflict involved in rate-making. It must go to a Republican.

A number of southern and western senators, generally New Dealish on economic issues, are supporting Arne C. Wiprud, a native of Minnesota, formerly chief of the transportation section of the justice department's anti-trust division, now associate solicitor of the post office department handling railroad matters.

He fought the Reed-Bulwinkle bill, exempting railroads from the anti-trust laws on certification by the I. C. C., which Congress passed over President Truman's veto and was active in seeking to remove alleged rate discriminations about which the West and South have complained.

Attorney General Tom Clark has recommended to President Truman the appointment of David O. Mathews, of Nebraska, who is in charge in the justice department of the so-called war reparations cases for alleged overcharges by the railroads during the war. He has the support of Senators Wherry and Butler of Nebraska, Republicans, among others.

New England, which is without a member on the commission, has a number of candidates. Here the influence of Senator McGrath (D-R.I.), who is also national Democratic chairman, may have its effect.

The Nation Today

'Why?' Here's Answer

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — So you'd like to have been in Washington yesterday to see the big parade and to shake hands with the President. Most people would, I guess.

People are always eager to shake the hand of an important man and they come running for a parade here or anywhere.

But why? Why has that always been true? I called a group of psychologists and asked them. And I got these answers:

Why people go out of their way to shake with an important man—

If you can shake hands with a big-shot, it makes you feel like a bit of a big-shot yourself. It makes you feel, if only a little, that you're sharing in his power and the important things he's done.

And if you feel defeated or frustrated deep within yourself, as so many people do, it is an easy trick of the mind to feel like something of a winner for a change by contact with a successful man.

Besides, there's something special about shaking hands with a king, or president, or big banker, or famous soldier. Not everyone has a chance like that. Therefore, it's special.

And, because of that, it sets you apart from other people. In other words, it gives you a sense of prestige.

And when you tell your family or friends about it, you hope that it will make you yourself look just a little more important in their eyes.

* * *

Groping for "Security."

BUT shaking hands with an important man, particularly some one like the head of a government, does more.

Most people want a feeling of security. An important man, like a president, is often looked upon, although the word may not be used, as the "father" of his country.

And Sigmund Freud had a theory that most people are forever seeking someone to take the place of their father or mother who gave them their earliest, and perhaps most real, sense of security.

It was after they cut loose from home and dependency on father or mother that a deep feeling of insecurity set in.

So by contact with an important man you have, if only for a little while, that sense of security you may not have had since childhood.

Why people stand for hours to see a parade—

In the first place, a parade is something new and different. Also it lasts but a short time. When it's over, it's over forever.

So, again seeing a parade gives a person a sense of sharing in something special, something which only those who were there could see.

But there's something else. A parade is something that breaks in on the humdrum monotony of every day living. While looking at it, a person is escaping from the monotony of his own life.

At the same time, he can project himself into the splendor of it and, by taking part in it that way, if only by watching, he adds color to his life, or feels he does.

An another example of the same thing, one of the psychologists said:

Put it this way: A little man who usually gets no attention buys a big automobile, with huge horns, and zips around town, feeling much bigger.

And, by watching a big parade, a lot of people who get no attention themselves throw themselves mentally into the parade and are the center of attention.

As Cerf Tells It

Schiller, in his biography of Frederick the Great, tells of the monarch's visit to a Potsdam prison. One prisoner after another assured him that he was innocent, and the victim of a frame-up. Finally one man, however, looked down at the floor and said, "Your Majesty, I am guilty, and richly deserving punishment."

Frederick bellowed for the warden. "Free this rascal and get him out of our prison," he ordered, "before he corrupts all the noble innocent people in here."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Civil Rights Exemplified In Congress

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Without benefit of flashbulbs or fanfare, an important southern congressman has put civil rights to work on a voluntary basis.

Congressman Henderson Lanham of Rome, Georgia, who believes in cooperation with Negroes but doesn't like laws forcing cooperation, walked into the office of the leading Negro member of Congress, William Dawson of Chicago, the other day and offered to serve under him.

Lanham is No. 3 man on the important House committee on executive expenditures, and he agreed to take a back seat to the Negro.

He also had a pleasant talk with the Chicago Democrat about their boyhood back in Georgia. It developed that they had been reared only a few miles apart.

Lanham asked about Dawson's family and learned his grandparents had been slaves once owned by founders of Dawson, Georgia. Discussing politics, the two agreed there was no reason to let Jim Crowism keep them from working together in Congress.

"We used to play with white children," recalled Dawson. "There was no hatred between children. We used to get in fights, but they were children's fights. There was no racial bitterness."

Another southern congressman, Porter Hardy of Virginia, has also announced he will stay on Dawson's committee.

* * *

Dinner for Dawson.

MEANWHILE a dinner is being held tonight at the interior department in honor of the first Negro ever to become chairman of a congressional committee.

Actually, Congressman Dawson tried to discourage the dinner. He felt it would put too many of his southern colleagues on the spot. However, his northern friends had proceeded with the plans without consulting him.

So far, southern congressmen have all declined, though many have paid tribute to Dawson personally. Congressman Albert Thomas of Texas sent a $25 check for the dinner's testimonial fund, which will be used to grant loans to Negro college students. Thomas also wrote: "Permit me to say I have served with Bill for many years. He is a fine man, a great public servant and a close friend . . ."

Other southerners also wrote kind words of tribute, such as Kentucky's Congressman Frank Chelf who scribbled underneath his formal letter turning down the invitation: "Congressman Dawson has the respect of all the members of Congress. He is a good man."

The reason for these tributes is modest Congressman Dawson, himself. He has plugged along quietly and efficiently, keeping in the background, avoiding clashes with such demagogues as Mississippi's John Rankin, until he has now been accepted into the leadership of the House.

* * *

White House Disunity.

ONLY a handful of insiders know it, but the new-found "hard-hitting unity" of the Truman administration has already suffered a few serious bruises around the presidential inner circle.

Participants in the struggle are members of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, who are feuding among themselves, and with officials of the interior department.

Their worst split is over expansion of the steel industry. Undersecretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman and Assistant Secretary of Interior "Jebby" Davidson joined with such 100 per cent Trumanites as Senator O'Mahoney in demanding that Truman force the steel industry to expand.

However, the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, Dr. Edwin Nourse, dissented vigorously. As a result, snide remarks have begun to fly back and forth across the President's desk. Nourse now calls the steel-expansion advocates "eager beavers." They, in turn, call him a "Tory."

President Truman is reported upset and disappointed over the row, because only last November he asked all his economic aides to get together on a joint program on which there could be complete harmony.

Again, just before New Year's day, Truman spent another hour with his economic advisers plus Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, Secretary of Interior Krug and Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. It was only after he thought he had their complete approval that he later made his economic proposals to Congress.

Despite this, Dr. Nourse has openly broken the unity by delivering an off-the-record speech in New York denouncing the President's proposals to expand the steel industry as "unwise and unnecessary." It was the work, he said, of "some eager beavers around the President."

Now That Show's Over

By INEZ ROBB

WASHINGTON—A lonely figure awoke in Washington early today to contemplate a herculean task and the awful weight of his responsibilities.

His first name very likely may have been Harry, but his last name wasn't Truman.

Even as revelers steered their way home today from the Inaugural Ball in the gray dawn, his man was hard at work. With broom and bin, the town's street sweepers were already rounding up tons of confetti, serpentine, torn telephone books and empty bottles.

Now that the bender is over and only the headache remains, Washington started cautiously patching itself together today. Nothing, not even a newspaper, is deader than yesterday's celebration. Yesterday, Harry was king; today, it's the white wing.

Everything that goes up has to come down, including the inaugural stands. The smart contractor that put 'em up, also contracted to take 'em down, including the salvage value of the lumber involved.

The hammers that resounded through Washington only a few days ago as the stands went up, will be back at work today knocking them down. This is going to be a tough break in the down-town or hotel areas where many guests today can't bear to hear a mouser stomping around overhead.

The bunting, like the celebrants, looks a bit on the wilted side today. And it is probably just as well that Congress voted itself and federal employes in the District a holiday until Monday.

For, despite the street sweepers, and the disappearing stands, it will take Washington that long to pull itself together. Inaugural visitors, estimated as high as 500,000, began to leave in hordes today.

* * *

Summing It All Up.

AS THE influx ebbs, hotels in the District and those as far away as Baltimore will carefully begin to assess the damage and wonder if it was worth it, even at inaugural rates.

Those smug people who stayed safely at home or in the neighborhood bar and saw it all on television will be unbearably superior to the beaten down wretch with the fallen arches who spent $289 to see the same thing in person, only not so good or so close up.

In the meantime, President Truman, who drew the brass ring, can sit home today and contemplate a cloud in his sky no bigger than a man's hand but as ominous as a similar warning in the cyclone belt.

For a man who received an unprecedented and tumultuous ovation yesterday, he's got troubles and he knows it.

The Senate Republicans were mighty nice about Mr. Truman's $25,000 pay raise. They squawked somewhat at the extra $50,000 expense boost for the chief executive, for which he does not have to account, but they went along.

But the Senate Republicans and their Democratic allies in the upper house really demonstrated to the President what they could do in combination when they refused to vote tax exemption on all tickets for bona fide inaugural events.

Just shows what the Republican senators and some of their Democratic Senate chums from the o' South can do to our Harry's legislative program this winter if the combine wants to get tough.

Just shows, also, what a headache a man can acquire even in the midst of a triumphal inaugural.

While Mr. Truman got four new years in the White House, or a reasonable facsimile, Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret also got a present every woman in the country will envy.

Stanton D. Sanson of Darby, Pa., obviously a high-type Democrat, sent each of the Truman ladies a four-year supply of nylons.

Sanson's idea of a four-year supply of hose adds up to 1,450 pairs for each, or a grand total of 2,900 pairs of sox!

On closer examination, I find that equals one pair of stockings for every day in four years.

If the Truman ladies' feet are as tired as mine, they can probably trade in the first 500 pairs for arch supports.

Anyway, D-day, Democrats' day, that is, is over and just to be alive is something!

Russian Reaction To Speech Awaited

By J. C. OESTREICHER

THE MASTER-MINDING editorialists of Izvestia and Pravda faced the task of a lifetime today in dealing with the inaugural address of President Truman which Soviet tradition demands must be labeled as "imperialistic and war mongering."

Amidst the torrent of praise that flowed in upon Mr. Truman's first address as elected holder of his high office one paramount fact emerged.

This was the chief executive's dexterity in cutting the ground from any justified foreign criticism. He quite obviously had taken into consideration every weapon the communists could conceivably use against him and spiked each and every gun before it could be fired.

It seemed inevitable then that the anticipated Moscow blasts will be directed against principles rather than definite items on the President's agenda for the attainment and maintenance of a permanent peace.

The communist newspapers can assail Mr. Truman's support of the North Atlantic security pact, which incidentally was a far stronger endorsement than most foreign observers had expected.

They can charge again that American dollars are being used to "enslave" Europe under the Marshall Plan.

They can continue their ceaseless but seemingly futile efforts to scuttle the United Nations.

But it will take linguistic juggling indeed to present the President's appraisal of democracy versus communism in any manner palatable to the spoon fed readers of the Soviet press.

President Truman touched the heart of the problem with his blistering denunciation of police state methods and the rule of force through fear.

Intentionally or otherwise, he duplicated the tactics of his predecessor, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, who attempted to reach the German people over the head of Adolf Hitler and his entourage. Mr. Roosevelt failed in his efforts to wean the Germans away from a love for war and a desire for conquest.

It is not impossible that the new President will achieve a greater measure of success.

What effect his major address may have upon the people of Russia as a whole depends in large measure upon the methods of presentation drafted by the Kremlin's editorial staff.

A fair and unbiased approach obviously is too much to hope for. But the President appears to have left few loopholes for ridicule or legitimate criticism.

Farmer's Diary

Protected By Nature

By CALVIN A. BYERS

UNDERNEATH a large fodder shock, on a winter night, I heard crickets chirp. The cheerful voices spoke from the warmer soil beneath the firmly set sheaves.

Beneath the sheltering bark of a forest tree, several kinds of insects were harbored. Surely, anyone might think that severe cold weather would freeze the liquid in each tiny creature, and myriads would lie dead after every frost.

Not having seen many frozen bugs, I collected, one day, all I could find beneath bark and under stones — ants, crickets, a beetle, a thousand-legged worm, sow bugs and such. Deliberately I crushed them into a pulp and put the semi-liquid on a clean chip. I set it out to freeze.

Had I been a quantitative chemist, I might have determined the composition of the matter. But it did not freeze—not much.

So I believe insects protect themselves against cold by natural antifreeze, and keep adding a more concentrated solution as the season grows colder. Does that sound incredible?

Yesterday I examined a long green glittering growth upon the open face of a boulder near the outlet of a flowing spring. Looking closely, I found that it seemed to be lichen, fungus and algae.

Lichens are primitive plants that grow on bark or rocks. They are really two kinds of plants that live together, depending upon each other. Symbiosis is the word for it, I believe.

It's a field relatively untouched, as applied to agriculture. One farmer I know grows corn and beans for silo succotach by planting beans in the corn rows. Another plants clover seed in his cornfield after the last plowing—rides horseback through the field with the seeder on the saddle.

Nettles have a stimulating effect upon plants that grow about them. One of the best orchards hereabouts has nettles growing thickly among the bluegrass beneath the trees. Most likely everyone can think of similar examples of symbiosis. It would make an interesting field for experimentation.

Russian Blockade Cuts Factory Output By 60%

BERLIN — (AP) — The vise clamped around Berlin by the Soviets is cramping the city's economic life. American officials say the factories are running short of both materials and cash.

"Factories are using raw materials faster than they are getting them but critical firms are receiving what they need," says a U.S. military government official who is in a position to know.

"We hope that the time will come when the air lift can bring in materials as fast as they are used," he adds. "The long-term outlook is optimistic—but I don't know about the next few months."

This official says that "between 30 and 40 percent of pre-blockade production is being maintained in Berlin." Stated another way, this means that the Soviet blockade has sliced from 60 to 70 percent from the city's factory output.

Does this mean that the allied sectors of this blockaded city are headed for economic collapse, as forecast by communist propagandists?

American officials here give an emphatic "no". And they list three reasons:

1. Nobody in Berlin is starving. Berliners with empty stomachs would capitulate to the Soviets but: "Operation Vittles" is providing Berliners with a better diet than the French, English or Balkan peoples get (except for English fresh vegetables.)

2. The spirit of Berliners. Their chins are up. Many who live on the Soviet sector border spend hours daily walking to wooded sections of the allied sectors to get fuel rather than step into the eastern sector for coal.

3. Expansion of the allied air lift. This will increase the volume of fuel and raw materials for Berlin's factories.

Critical factories still are humming at capacity. They supply minimum essentials for repair of city busses and utilities. Such factories get the fuel and materials they need.

Other factories which the western powers want to operate are handicapped by scarcities. But are shipping to western Germany some machine tools, coal mining, telecommunications and electrical equipment, chemicals and pharmaceuticals.

Since the air lift began last June over 8,000 gross metric tons of such products have been flown to the west.

But the west German manpower department reports that 9,826 factories have shut down since the Soviets looped a noose around Berlin. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander, says 161,000 persons are totally or partially unemployed in the three western sectors.

Berlin's dual currency also has helped keep factories running. Here is the reason as outlined by one American official:

By selling their products in western Germany for Deutsche (west) marks, Berlin's factory owners make a 300 percent profit. For the Russian (east) mark is worth just one-fourth of the west mark on the black market. Then the factory owner can pay salaries, taxes and electricity costs in east marks.

Saw, Needle Put Two In Hospital Bed

SPRINGFIELD —(AP)— J. B. Crumrine, 58, fell into a buzz saw and was slashed from shoulders to hips but his condition was reported today as fair.

The accident occurred Wednesday on his farm near Cedarville. Workers shut off the tractor-powered saw and took Crumrine to a hospital in Jamestown, Greene county. About 200 stitches were taken in his back.

Treated in the same hospital was 14-year-old Joseph Sibley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sibley of Jamestown. Young Sibley sat on a crochet needle. Hospital attaches said it penetrated his body four inches.

Delegates to the Eighth Annual convention of the County Engineers' Association of Ohio were homeward bound yesterday but they left a few considerations for the legislature.

Horoscope

For Saturday, January 22
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

WHILE there are excellent auguries for the growth, advancement and happy culmination of ambitions and aspirations in work and at play, in home and in business, yet such objectives must be secured by serious thought and sound plans, with discretion and control in putting over treasured goals. A bid for publicity, enhanced popularity, the engineering of new and important deals may be defeated by rash, impetuous moves, strife and bungling, where moves, strife and good feeling could be productive. Make necessary changes or renewed contracts with considerations.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is have encouraging signs for launching important projects of ambitious scope and prospects in which proper preparation could prove fruitful and give much personal gratification. Personal domestic and affectional relations are involved, and cherished hopes and wishes could materialize. However, the emotions, impulses and desires may overrule sound judgment, as the mind is lacking in clarity and decision in making wise conclusions. Rash drives, ill-considered moves and changes could negative fair fortune.

A child born on this day, while ambitious and efficient in many lines, may becloud this by rash, impetuous and wavering state of mind and emotions.

Honor Three On Birthdays

Fifty-five members and guests were present at the covered dish dinner of the John Todd park association held in the pavilion. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Falmer, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maul and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Isaman were the hosts for the evening.

Birthday cakes were presented to Miss Bonnie Hoffman, Miss Roberta Yarman and Mrs. Maul, all celebrated their birth anniversaries on that day. Plans were made for a card party to be held February 19 at the pavilion. The committee is composed of Mrs. Gould Bryner, Mrs. Jay Shadel and Mrs. Burton French.

Pinochle and games were the diversion of the evening.

February 16, the group will meet for a covered dish dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jenning Heiser, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Adams and Mrs. Russel Yarman as hosts.

Legion Mothers Convene For Quilting, Luncheon Meeting

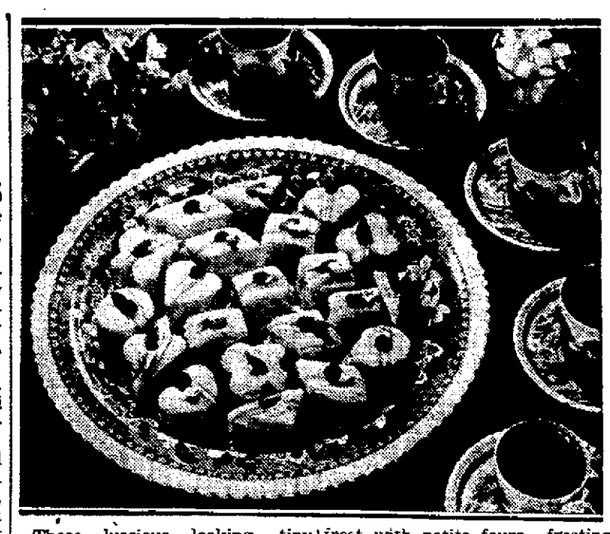
COACH IS NEW DEPOT

LAKE PRESTON, S. D.—(U.P.)—Passengers alighting here from a Northwestern train step from a coach into a coach. The old depot was destroyed by fire last summer. The best the railroad could do to replace it was to get an old coach, set it on the depot site and partition it off into a ticket office and waiting room.



Those luscious looking, tiny cakes that you admire in the cases of the best bake shops can be turned out just as beautifully in your own kitchen. Dainty in size, iced in delicate pastel tints and decorated with contrasting bits of color, the petits fours you make will be just as lovely as any you buy.

For the cake you can use white cake mix, or a sponge cake baked in an oblong pan. An apricot glaze is necessary to give a smooth surface over which to spread the frosting and to keep the frosting from cracking. The prepared cake mix, of course, is the quicker method.

PETITS FOURS
2 packages white cake mix
Apricot glaze*
Petits Fours Frosting

Prepare caks mix as directed on package, baking in greased and floured shallow oblong cake pans. Cool on cake rack. Cut into squares, diamonds, hearts and other desired shapes, using a sharp knife or cookie cutters. Spread tops and sides of cakes thinly with apricot glaze. Place an inch apart on waxed paper. When all excess glaze has dripped off, set the cakes on racks on waxed paper and frost with petits fours frosting. Decorate as desired with bits of green citron, halved pistachio nuts, almond slivers, etc.

APRICOT GLAZE

Soak ½ lb. dried apricots overnight in enough water to cover. Drain and put through food mill or sieve. Measure. Add equal amount of granulated sugar. Bring slowly to boil over low heat. Boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool.

*PETITS FOURS FROSTING

In a saucepan combine 1½ cups granulated sugar, ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar and ¾ cup water. Place over low heat and stir until sugar dissolves. Boil without stirring to 226°F. Remove from heat and cool until lukewarm (110° F.). Add 2½ cups confectioners' sugar, or more if needed, to make a good pouring consistency. Frosting should adhere to the cakes. Pour over the rows of cakes, tipping the racks so that each cake is uniformly coated. The frosting that drips off onto the waxed paper may be reheated and used again. If different colored frostings are desired, divide frosting before spreading and tint each portion with food coloring.

Loudonville Plans New Water Plant

$130,000 Project Bids Take Shape

LOUDONVILLE —(AP)— Plans for a new $130,000 lime-soda water purification plant here should be ready about Feb. 1, and bids for the work will be asked promptly, Mayor Fred Church said today.

It was a breakdown in the chlorinator at the waterworks which was blamed for an outbreak of enteritis, a kind of intestinal flu, which afflicted about 1,000 of the villages's 2,600 residents two weeks ago.

State Health Director John D. Porterfield said tests at Columbus showed the presence of colon bacilli in the deep-well water that was piped to consumers unchlorinated during the three days the machinery was broken.

Church said the village administration resented criticism it had been lax about providing the town with a safe water supply.

"The voters approved a $130,000 bond isue at the last election for construction of a lime-soda water purification plant," the mayor said. "At present work is progressing on detailed plans and specifications and these should be ready on about Feb. 1. As soon as the plans are ready, we can ask for bids and get the project started."

Slight Upward Trend In Stocks Enters Sixth Day

NEW YORK — (AP) — Another gentle advance carried stock prices forward for the sixth session in a row today.

Gains were small for the most part and scored on limited volume. A good handful of key stocks refused to go along.

Turnover was a shade more rapid than in most other days this week but still limited.

The president's inaugural speech, which was generally approved among financial and business men, evidently was not going to be used as a springboard for a substantial rally but at least traders found nothing in the address to deter buying.

"You need a community playhouse here in order to do amateur theatricals the way they should be done," Dorman E. Richardson, director of public relations of the Toledo Repertoire theater, told a group of Mansfield thespians last night.

The meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, attended by 50, was sponsored by the Mansfield Little Theater. Richardson was the second out-of-town speaker brought here to talk to a local group this season.

Richardson told the group that members should make every effort to get a playhouse.

Here's 'Blow By Blow' Report on Inaugural Ceremony

Full Ritual Complete In 43 Minutes

Pastor, Rabbi, Bishop Participate

WASHINGTON — Here is a 'blow by blow' description of yesterday's 43-minute inauguration as reported by International News Service:

Harry Truman took the oath of office as the 33rd president at 12:29 p.m.

At 12:07 P.M., the cabinet filed in and took seats on the presidential platform.

The president's platform was half in shadow from the bright sun.

At 12:12 P.M., Mrs. Truman and Margaret were escorted to the first row of the platform to the right of the president's position.

Mrs. Max Truitt, daughter of vice president, Alben W. Barkley, accompanied the Trumans.

At 12:15 P.M. the marine band played 'Hail To The Chief', the silk hats came off, and President Truman was escorted to the front of the inaugural platform with Barkley.

The president raised his right hand to tighten his silk hat a moment, looked solemnly over the crowd, and then turned to say a few smiling words to Chief Justice Vinson, who wore a black skull cap for the ceremony.

SALUTES JUSTICE REED

Grinning broadly, Mr. Truman shook hands then with Justice Stanley F. Reed and tossed him a sharp salute.

Then at 12:18 P.M., the Reverend Edward Hughes Pruden, pastor of Mr. Truman's church in Washington, the First Baptist, began his invocation.

The crowd settled to its seat, the marine band remained standing and then Barkley removed his overcoat and silk top hat, stepped up to the forefront of the platform with Justice Reed and the oath of office was administered to him.

Barkley repeated the oath of office in a strong voice that was carried to the outermost fringe of the area over the loud speaker system. He kissed the Bible as he finished the oath.

Mr. Truman stood solemnly at Barkley's right with Chief Justice Vinson, awaiting his turn.

As he was waiting, Rabbi Samuel Thurmond of St. Louis offered a prayer. He had come to Washington at the express request of Mr Truman.

OATH ADMINISTERED

Chief Justice Vinson, doffing his black skull cap, adminstered the oath to President Truman and then grasped the president's hand for a firm handshake of congratulations. The president also kissed the Bible at the end of the oath.

The President shook hands with Vice President Barkley and Justice Reed and then with a businesslike manner turned promptly to the speaker's stand and began his inaugural address.

It was 12:50 P.M. when the president finished his address and hastily put on his black topcoat, wrapped his silk scarf around his neck and shook hands around with the immediate dignitaries at the front of the platform.

A carrillon of bells rang out over the loud-speaking system and the president stood waiting while Archbishop O'Boyle delivered the benediction.

Then, as the archbishop concluded, the marine band closed the official ceremony with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The president put back on his high silk hat, took Barkley by the elbow and again to the strains of 'Hail To The Chief' slowly walked back across the platform into the rotunda of the capitol.

Sales Tax Fund Lags In Richland

A lag in retail sales in Richland county during the first week of 1949 was reflected in a drop in sales tax revenue, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported today.

Sales tax collections in the county for the week ended Jan. 8 totaled $28,786. Last year the same week produced $34,673.

Among nearby counties, Ashland, Holmes and Morrow showed increases. There were sharp declines in Crawford, Huron, and Knox counties.

Barn Is Jinxed

CHANUTE, Kan. — UP) — On Keith Knetzler's farm it's barn-building time again. Twice by tornado and once by fire, the Kansas farmer has lost his barn in the last nine months. The last time flames destroyed the 40x150 foot building less than 48 hours after carpenters had completed it.

Tears In Her Eyes, Mrs. Truman Watches Ceremony

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Tears welled up in Bess Truman's eyes today as she watched her childhood sweetheart sworn in as president of the United States.

For a fleeting moment, when her husband raised his right hand aloft and swore to do his best "So held me God," Mrs. Truman's face mirrored the gravity of the occasion.

This was the day Bess Truman had hoped for and dreaded. This was a moment of great pride and of complete awareness of the great responsibility confronting her husband.

She could not fully control her emotions as she sat there on the inaugural platform just behind him. She pursed her lips. Her eyes moistened.

Daughter Margaret sensed what was coming. She leaned over, peered into her mother's face for a second and whispered a comforting word.

Mrs. Truman turned to Margaret and smiled reassuringly.

Mother and daughter exchanged whispered words frequently during the start of the president's inaugural address And, from time to time, Margaret turned to Mrs. Max Truitt, daughter and official h tess of Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who sat on Margaret's right.

A golden sun beat down from a brilliant blue sky. But it was cold. And Margaret and Mrs. Truitt frequently pulled their mink coats about their throats and hunched their shoulders.

Mrs. Truman, however, left her black Persian lamb coat open at the throat. She wore a blue-gray strawcloth hat which matched her blue eyes. And she carried a spray of three purple orchids.

Margaret's vivid red hat, with a perky side bow, was the brightest spot on the inaugural platform.

The presidential oath-taking by her husband was the high point of this day of days in Bess Truman's life.

The first lady — the woman who wants what her husband wants — was up early for this day of glory.

U. S. Lacked A President For Half-Hour

WASHINGTON — (AP) — For 29 minutes yesterday the United States had no president.

The constitution says the presidential term shall end at noon on Jan. 20.

Technically, then, Harry S. Truman's term ended at noon and he was only a president-elect and not a president.

He officially began his new term upon taking the oath at 12.29 p. m., eastern standard time.

No one in official Washington was concerned about the lapse.

'It's My Country, Isn't It?'

Little Grey-Haired Lady First On Scene

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Long before the inaugural ceremonies started, a little gray-haired lady sat in the chilly stands at the capitol, waving an American flag.

She was Miss Florence Simenhoff. She sat in the stands reserved for the dignitaries. She got there at 5 a. m. when it was still cold and dark.

Oblivious to the giggles of other women who showed up later, Miss Simenhoff smiled happily and waved her flag.

"I'm not ashamed of my patriotism," she said. "I'm proud of it."

Miss Simenhoff, a native of Lancaster, Pa., is employed at the naval gun factory here.

The reason she go a seat in the stands set aside for the dignitaries was that she was the first to show up yesterday morning to watch the swearing in of Harry S. Truman as president of the United States.

"A policeman told me this ticket was for me for being the first one on the hill," she said.

"It was cold and windy. But what has that got to do with it?"

She fixed her rimless pince nez glasses firmly on her nose.

"It's my country, isn't it?" she said.

Rockefeller Center Proves To Be Complete City Within Walls

NEW YORK—(AP)—Howdy, Stranger.

Like our town? Sure I'll be glad to tell you something about it. Sit down and rest your feet.

Well, sir, it's small as town go—only 12½ acres. But there's only 54 cities in the U.S.A. with more'n our 160,000 population. We do count our daily visitors in that figure, but the Chamber of Commerce in your town probably does, too.

Of course, your town may not average 128,000 visitors a day. Ours does.

What brings 'em here, stranger? Why, to do business and see the sights—mostly.

Yep, there are only 15 buildings. But you just tell me where you can find 15 anywhere like 'em—and I'll eat 'em. Cost $74,000,000, they did.

What's inside 'em? Stranger, I'm afraid to begin telling. Well, there's 215 elevators, 10,105,000 rivets and 138,392 tons of steel.

Yes, and there's twelve escalators, 28,000 telephones, 16,500 windows, 25 restaurants, more'n 200 stores, an 800-car garage and 1,100 business tenants. And they're prompt with the rent, too.

They have to be. Our town pays $3,000,000 real estate taxes. And we fork out $3,500,000 rent every year to help keep neighbor "Ike" Eisenhower's seminary running up there in the suburbs. Yes, that's right—Columbia university owns the ground.

What else have we got? Well, sir, we got 20 foreign consulates here, two radio networks, 12 airlines, 36 travel bureaus and 20 railroad offices—almost. You can get a passport here, a permanent wave, have your eyeglasses repaired, your teeth filled or your finger bandaged. We even got a drugstore that still sells aspirin tablets. But we don't have a hotel or a jail.

No, stranger, you can't get buried here. You got me there. But if you're tired of living we got a 70-story building 850 feet tall you can jump off of. It ain't every town that can offer you that. I guess, though, our town isn't for folks in a hurry to die. It's for folks who are living in a hurry—and just die in the process.

What's that? Do we have culture? Why, our town's crawling with culture. We got an outdoor ice and roller skating rink. We got the largest indoor movie parlor in the world—seats 6,200. And it doesn't show double features either.

Oh, I tell you, stranger, there never was a town like ours. Sometimes I almost wished I lived in it. We got the fastest moving stairway in the world—125 feet a minute. We got the largest chandelier in the world—weighs six tons and has 590 bulbs, all electric.

That movie parlor I mentioned has the world's largest indoor screen and the world's largest indoor stage.

Who's the big family in our town, stranger? W-e-e-ll, we got a lot of big families here. But I guess you might say the Rockefellers are the biggest. In fact we named our town after them—Rockefeller Center. They own it—pretty much.

Mother of 2 Scouts Wins Recognition

Mrs. Wilmoth Honored at Party

By WINTHROP RUGGLES

Mrs. C. E. Wilmoth, 54 Brickman avenue, was presented with a Boy Scout plaque, as a special award in recognition of her contributions to scouting, at the 18th annual Johnny Appleseed area, "Scout Widows Party," last night.

Mrs. Wilmoth holds no official post in scouting, but has given much of her time to Troop 18, which is led by her husband. Her two sons, William and Harry, attained the rank of Eagle Scout in Troop 18, and are now assistant scoutmasters under their father.

In presenting the award to Mrs. Wilmoth, C. G. Hillier, Mansfield district scout commissioner, said, "There is no such thing as a 'troop mother,' but if there were, Mrs. Wilmoth would be just that."

Nearly 200 scouters, cubbers, and their husbands and wives from Mansfield and eight surrounding scout districts attended the dinner in the John Simpson cafeteria. Harry Dotson, principal of John Simpson, and the first scoutmaster in this area, delivered the invocation preceding the dinner.

RECEIVES PIN

Glenn D. Pore, scoutmaster of Mansfield Troop 5, was presented a pin by Hillier, in honor of having served as a scouter for 15 years. Scouters presented pins for 10 years of continuous work were Robert Pore, Jack Augustine, Gene Batson, Paul Snyder, all of Mansfield troops; Harold Robinson, Lexington Troop 1; Dean Stroup and Roger Pfahler of Shelby Troops 1 and 3, respectively.

Scouters receiving pins for five years continuous scouting were William Daum, Norman W. White, Clay Shroff, all of Mansfield troops; L. F. Reich of Ashland troop 4; Harlan Yarman, Shelby Troop 1; and Eldred Briner, Lucas Troop 1.

After the meritorious awards by Hillier, W. C. Mead, president of the Johnny Appleseed area Scout Council, presented the "Errortorious" awards (?) to scouters for their past year's faux pas.

Those rewarded for their efforts were Simon Seif, of Lexington, for "his fishing proficiency," David Morris, of Mansfield, for "his football-ticket forgetfulness"; Merl Erich of Mansfield, for "his all-wet canoe trips"; and J. J. Swisher of Mansfield, for "his snoring overtures."

OSR Inmate Awaits Release

Bobbie Dale Reynolds, 25, of Canton, today was awaiting his release from the Mansfield reformatory after the Fifth district court of appeals ordered his freedom.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the reformatory said he had not received a court entry which authorizes release of Raynolds.

The court found that Reynolds, a war veteran, had been in government hospitals for mental illness and was adjudged incompetent previous to Aug. 22, 1947, when he was sentenced to the reformatory for assault to rob.

MILLION-DOLLAR FIRE—A heavy smoke pall hangs over Independence, Mo., President Truman's home town. A million-dollar blaze swept the business section just a few hours before Mr. Truman was inaugurated for his first full term as President of the United States. The fire burned through four buildings in near-zero temperature, but the "Little White House" was not menaced. Firemen can be seen pouring water into a building at left. Arrow points to one building destroyed.

Oil Station Burglarized

Cash Register Smeared With Eggs

Between $40 and $75 in pin ball machine money and merchandise was taken last night when thieves, believed to be juveniles, broke into the Empire Service station, 811 Bowman street.

Sheriff's deputies who received the report of burglary at 7 a. m. today, enlisted the help of Identification officer Paul Martin of the Mansfield police department to aid in the investigation.

Earl Bartram, manager of the service station, said the theft included about $25 in "script", or coupons for gasoline and service purchased by employes of the Empire Steel plant.

Deputies said entrance had been gained by breaking the glass in a north door. The cash register, empty at the time of the robbery, was found open and smeared with broken eggs, the pin ball machine was damaged and oil cans were scattered about the room.

Bartram said he locked the station at 7:45 p. m. yesterday. Also missing, beside pin ball machine money, was one half of a $20 order of candy and chewing gum.

Judgment Awarded

Alice M. Richards, administratrix of the estate of M. F. Crawford, deceased, won a judgment of $202 yesterday in Common Pleas court from Frank J. Dalton of Shelby.

She had sued for $80 and interest from 1930 as due on a promissory note. She contended that six shares of stock turned over as collateral to Crawford at that time had become worthless.

Common Pleas Judge J. E. Kalbfleisch returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff on a motion by her attorney, A. B. Mabee for a judgment on the pleadings.

Another action scheduled for yesterday was conducted when one of the attorneys informed the court he had to be in Columbus on another case.

That case involves a $234 suit brought by the Allen Knapp Heating company against Harry Butts, South Main street, and alleges the sum is due for installing a furnace in the defendant's home.

Woman Tells Of Threat

Police today were searching for an adolescent boy who brandished a knife in front of a young woman and attempted to force her into an alley as she walked on South Diamond street shortly before 5 p. m. yesterday.

Police were told the boy made threatening gestures with a knife in full daylight, but the woman ignored his threats and continued walking to her home one block away.

She described her assailant as about 16 years old, with blond hair, a light complexion, and thin face. He was poorly dressed, she told police. She failed to identify several suspects whom police rounded up.

Dr. Tulloss to Leave Wittenberg College

By NITA BRANSON

Dr. Rees Edgar Tulloss, a former Mansfield Lutheran pastor and a frequent visitor in the city, will retire Aug. 31 as president of Wittenberg college at Springfield after holding the post 29 years.

His successor will be Dr. Clarence C. Stoughton, 53, widely-known educator.

Dr. Stoughton lives in Staten Island, N. Y., and has headed Wagner college. Dr. Tulloss described him as "one of the most distinguished of our Lutheran laymen in America."

Dr. Tulloss was pastor of the First Lutheran church here from 1918 to 1920 and left the Mansfield church to assume the presidency of the Lutheran college, now in its 104th year. He leaves the college post only because of a law governing the college administration which says that a president must retire at the age of 68. Dr. Tulloss has announced no plans for the future.

Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, said today of Dr. Tulloss's retirement: "He's a better president than we will probably ever have again and is still actively interested in Lutheran work. It's too bad that the ruling makes his retirement necessary.

Rev. Mitchell is one of three Mansfield men who are on the college board. The others are Attorney John F. Kramer and Dimon Herring.

When Dr. Tulloss leaves the college post in August, he will get a year's extra salary of $10,000 voted by the board, because he had never taken the year of leave coming to him.

Dr. and Mrs. Tulloss have an attractive home in Springfield and Rev. Mitchell thinks it doubtful they will leave that city.

CAME HERE IN 1918

Dr. Tulloss, then Rev. Tulloss, came to Mansfield in September, 1918. He had preached only one Sunday when the flu epidemic in the fall of 1918 caused the closing of the church. It was not reopened until Nov. 10 and during the intervening weeks, many of the membership had been victims of the epidemic.

When Dr. Tulloss came to Mansfield, he resigned as psychologist of the U. S. Navy Radio school at Cambridge, Mass. It was while at Cambridge with the war service that he perfected the radio operating system which was so effective that it was adopted by the government.

Dr. Tulloss's mechanical bent had been evident even prior to his entering Wittenberg college as a student in 1902. He had invented the Tulloss Touch system for the typewriter, his invention laying the ground work for his private fortune.

It was during Dr. Tulloss's pastorate here that the first assistant pastor was appointed; the annual Christmas "White Gifts" program for the Oesterlen Orphans home was inaugurated; the weekly bulletin, "The Lutheran Herald" was printed for the first time; support of a foreign missionary was voted for the first time, and the support of a home missionary pastor was also assumed.

M., Mansfield Commandry No. 21, Knights Templer and the Toledo Consistory. Mr. Swain was the last surviving chapter member of the local chapter of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, having been a member for 56 years.

Wells, Mrs. Clyde Williams and Mrs. Ora Reed, all of Akron; two brothers, A. E. Swain of Mansfield and B. M. Swain of Orrville.

Infant Succumbs In Crib

Flames Bar Home Entrance

MILLERSBURG—A young veteran's wife was burned last night in a vain attempt to save her five-month-old son from the blazing interior of their one-room farm cottage, four miles southeast of here.

The child, Billy Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark, perished in the fire when the mother was driven back by smoke and flames.

Millersburg Fire Chief Gordon Barton said an overheated coal stove set fire to the interior as Mrs. Clark stood approximately 100 feet away, talking to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dwight Clark. The child was left in its crib.

Chief Barton said the hysterical mother tried several time to enter the flaming front door to rescue the child. Her burns were treated by a Millersburg physician. The fire, he said, occurred about 6:20 p. m.

The chief added that the one-room cottage in which they lived had been built by the veteran father and his wife on the farm of Dwight Clark, a brother.

TEMPORARY HOME

He said the young couple put up the cottage as temporary lodging until they could find housing elsewhere. The father was at work at the Timken Roller Bearing company in Wooster at the time of the tragedy.

Besides the parents, the child is survived by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rusell Martin of Welcome; and by the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark of Millersburg, R. D. 4. The body has been removed to the Elliott funeral home in Millersburg pending arrangements.

At the same time, an oil stove explosion at the one-story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins of Stillwell, south of Killbuck, started a blaze which leveled the small residence before firemen could assist.

While still at the Clark home, firemen received word of the Hawkins' home fire. Firemen said no one was at home at the time of the blaze.

Judge Refuses To Be Witness In Trial of 11 Communists

NEW YORK —(INS)— Presiding Judge Harold R. Medina announced in court today he will not allow the defense to call him as a witness to testify at the government's trial of eleven top communists regarding the system of jury selection.

The defense contends the jury system in the New York federal court is "illegal and unconstitutional."

Judge Medina's appearance as a witness would have produced an almost unprecedented situation.

The eleven communists officials are charged with conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the United States government.

When court opened this morning, U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey reminded Judge Medina that he had stated yesterday he would rule at the outset today whether he would lay aside his robes and take the stand as a witness, if called by the defense.

McGohey, who has opposed the move on the ground it would automatically disqualify the judge, submitted a memorandum to the court dealing with "the law" in such a procedure.

Judge Medina said:

"I have been making some research of my own on this matter. It has confirmed the opinion I indicated yesterday.

"It is sufficiently plain to me that I need not testify in a case in which I am the presiding judge. And I will not testify."

Madison 5 Seeks No. 7 At Kenton

The Madison high school basketball team was scheduled to leave early this afternoon for Kenton where it will go after its seventh victory in ten games tonight.

Although boasting a slightly better record than the opposition, the Rams rate as a decided underdog in the clash with the big Class A school. Kenton competes with some of the better 'A' schools in the western part of the state and has won five of nine games

LOSE TO TWO

Madison, meanwhile has met only five 'A' schools and has lost to two—Willard and Akron South.

The Rams base most of their hopes on the possibility of their sophomore scoring star, Ed Chelski, having a hot night. Chelski leads the team in scoring with 11.8 average, and is capable of hitting up to 20 points per game.

One thing that may hamper the Rams is the large size of the Kenton floor. Madison's zone defense works like a charm on its own smaller court but may have trouble plugging all the holes on a big floor.

Trautman College Closes Business

COLUMBUS — (AP) — "Trautman's college" for minor league baseball executives closes its doors today for the least a couple of years.

George M. Trautman, president of the National association of bush loops, said the front office help was now "highly educated" in baseball paper work procedure" and that the annual five-day conference would be abandoned for a while.

STANKY STARTS—Taking advantage of the summerlike weather in his home town of Mobile, Ala., Eddie Stanky, Boston Braves pepperpot second baseman, exercises his right ankle with an assist from his five-year-old daughter, Georgia Ann. The ankle, broken last summer, was operated on recently for removal of bone chips. Stanky said the ankle is back in top shape.—(AP Wirephoto)

Ontario High Cage Team Seeks 10th Loop Victory

Ontario will go after its tenth straight Richland County league victory tonight when it invades Lucas which has what is probably the fastest improving team in the circuit.

Lucas has one of the few teams in the league which is big enough to give the Warriors a battle for rebounds and might well be the team to upset the winning streak.

Butler travels to Lexington in another game which could turn into an upset. Like Lucas, Butler has been coming fast of late and will be strengthened tonight by the addition of forward Bill Allen, a letterman of last year who was ineligible for the first half of the season.

On the other hand, Coach Vern Chaney's men lost their No. 1 guard, Ted Brokaw, with a sprained ankle last week.

In other games tonight, Plymouth looks like a cinch to take over sixth place when they travel to Shiloh. Union, which is tied with Plymouth, must face the powerful Bellville Blue Jays in their home nest.

Mitsch's Corner Store (the Madison Alumni) will meet the Butler Boosters in the 8:30 p.m. feature game following a pair of games between junior high teams. Lincoln Heights will meet Woodville in the 6:30 opening contest while East Mansfield plays the Butler eighth graders in the other.

Mitsch's has won 13 games and lost one. Its first defeat came at Greenwich, 45-42, last Saturday night.

Heidelberg Nips Ashland College Cage Club, 56-55

(By Associated Press)

Six Ohio college basketball teams clashed in three contests last night—and the three losing fives each scored 55 points.

Toledo defeated Baldwin Wallace 57 to 55, Muskingum handed Mt. Union a 78 to 55 loss, and Heidelberg won over Ashland 56 to 55.

In Toledo, the Rockets edged the Berans in a hard-fought game in which the lead changed hands three times. The score was tied once, at 25 all, in the second period, but Toledo held a 31 to 30 margin at intermission.

GETS SLIGHT BULGE

The count was tied again at 44-all at the start of the final quarter and the teams were deadlocked again at 46-all a few minutes later. Toledo got a 47 to 46 margin midway in the final period and the Rockers were never headed.

Heidelberg survived a last minute rally by Ashland to win by one point. The Studen Princes were leading 56 to 40 with 24 seconds to play when Ashland opened up an offensive which fell short by one point of deadlocking the score.

Lou Bonvechio led his Muskingum college team to the victory over Mt. Union, by scoring 21 points. Muskingum led 32 to 20 at half time.

Galion Cagers Battle Sunday

GALION — The Galion stars basketball team will meet the at 3 p.m. at the Galion armory.

Chic Skelley coaches the Galion quintet which features: Bob and Bill Neff, Jack Herbick, Lowell Maison, Dick and Gene Plummer, Lynn Heskett, George Treisch, Jim Corbett, Don Ricketts, Stretch Zahn, Frank Stansbury and Dan Benham.

The Cleveland team is made up of ex-college players and towers well over the six-foot mark. Tickets are on sale at Bob's News, The Old Corner and Smoke House.

Nine Women Feature Pin League Play

The women made the bowling news last night as they evidently tried to do something about the recent influx of high scores among the men.

None of the fairer sex rolled anything sensational but the nine women over 500 in one night established some sort of a record. Eight of the 500 scores were in the Women's Commercial A league.

Arlene Peters of PD's Bar was the top woman kegler as she fired a 535 series with games of 175, 183 and 177. Others hitting the 500 mark in the loop were: Evelyn Marshman, Lemley's Cleaners, 530; Haxel Hilborn, Outlet Furs, 514; Sue Humphrey, Ohio Sport Center, 505; Dot McDevitt, Sport Center, 502; Mary Dintaman, City News, and Helen Wilhelm, Lemley's Cleaners, 501, and Thelma Cox, Mansfield Frosted Foods, 500.

* * *

The ninth woman to go over the 500 mark was Betty Miller of Tappan Stove in the Industrial league. She had 174-174-167—515. Runner-up score in that circuit fell all the way to a 447 by Louise Bush. Carmin McIntire had a 440.

★

Art Hilborn, Colony alley manager, pounded out a 216-235-186—637 for the top in the Commercial B league score of the night. Farrell Hipp, his Yuncker's teammate hit the only other honor roll score, a 191-189-223—603.

Some of the bowlers who didn't score made as much news as those who did. Nick Weber, who got a 676 for the best score of his career the night before, fell to 171-157-151—479, and took quite a ribbing from his Liederkranz mates.

Jim Dunn of Ringside made news by what he didn't do. Dunn led off with 155 and 171 but followed with the poorest game in the league, 98.

Cliff Forsythe, Ringside, hit 584; Darrell McCullough, Dearman's, 581, J. Villella, Rose Bowl, 578, Harold Selby, Liederkranz, 577 and George Condos Lions club, 566. Condos had games of 200-210-156.

★

Condos also was over 500 in the Tappan Stove league rolling at a different hour. He had 145-175-202—522 in that loop. Bob Tipul set the pace for Tappan bowlers with a 241 single game and 579 series and was followed by Ray Kinton's 536. Harold Dysart's 537 and Ray Kinton's 536.

★

W. Warren led Westinghouse B bowlers with 201-157-202 — 560. Jimmy Kurek had 548 and F. Bertka, 509 and J. McCullough, 508.

Sport Center Goes Into 'A' Loop Lead

Ohio Sport Center backed into first place in the City A basketball league last night as the only other undefeated team, Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, bowed 42-34 to Komito's.

Komito's, led by Stretch Regula's 12 points and Don Hardy's 11, left little doubt about its intentions as it jumped into an 11-6 lead in the first quarter. Penn was never in front after that as the winners outscored it in every period but the fourth.

Rogers Jewelry beat Yuncker's, 45-35, and Urschel Insurance whipped Martin Hardware, 41-36, in other games on the card.

Leading scorer of the night was Lucas of Yuncker's with 17 points while Nick Gagich of Urschel's tallied 16 and Ed Chatlain of Martin Hardware, 15.

Buckeye Star To Play Again

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Dick Schnittker, Ohio state court star, will be back in the lineup Saturday night when Tippy Dye's cagers top off a weekend of sports action with a tilt against Purdue in the fairgrounds coliseum.

The swimmers will participate in an exhibition tonight in the Cleveland Athletic club.

The bucks' junior varsity basketball squad will be up against Ohio state's frosh in the preliminaries at 6 p. m. in the coliseum.

Three Michigan state squads will be matched against fencers, gymnasts and wrestlers at 2 p. m. Saturday in the mens physical education building.

CHICAGO — (UP) — Joe Louis said today that Elmer Ray, whom he will meet in an exhibition bout next week, may be his next opponent for a heavyweight title fight "if the public thinks he's a good contender."

John Simpson Breaks Long Losing Streak

By BILL M'CULLOUGH

LEXINGTON— John Simpson's junior high basketball team broke a five-game losing streak here last night at it tripped up a fine Lexington reserve team, 30-15.

Simpson jumped into a quick 4-0 lead and was never behind. It led at the quarters, 6-2, 9-5, 21-10, and 30-15.

Benny Carbetta led the Bulldog scoring column with four field goals and two free throws for a total of 10 points. Two other Simpson players, Bob Milligan, and Bill Semenoff had eight points each.

Simpson outscored its opponents from the field, 12-5 and made six of 11 foul shots to 5 of 14, for Lexington.

In the preliminary contest, the Simpson reserves took their fourth game in five starts as they whipped the Lexington 7th and 8th graders, 48-14. Jones had 14 points for the winners and Walker 11.

DETROIT—(AP)—Tigers bought Don Lund from St. Louis Browns and Virgil Trucks and Stubby Overmire signed 1949 contracts today.

Senior High Hosts Akron North Team

Despite another starting lineup shift, the Mansfield Senior high Tygers must be favored over the Akron North Vikings in their basketball clash tomorrow night on the Bengal floor.

Senior high has proven almost invincible on its home court in recent years and right now is riding the crest of 16 straight victories in the Tyger lair. Five of the victories have been achieved this season.

Away from home Senior high has dropped five of six contests to make the seasonal record six wins and five defeats.

SCHMITT MAY START

The lineup change will probably send Ed Schmitt, lanky junior, in at forward instead of Letterman Ed Demyan. The latter performer is temporarily off the squad to raise his grades. In case Schmitt doesn't start, Willie Fowler, another junior, will get the call. Both have been regulars from time to time this season.

Akron will try to rely on speed and hussle to take over the big Tyger team. Mansfield averages over the six-foot mark while not one member of the Vikings starting cast hits more than 5-11.

In eight games this season, North has broken even. The Rubber city crew has only two lettermen and has averaged 39.3 points to 41.8 for the opposition. Al Letta and Dick Gowin are the North veterans. Gowin has 44 field goals and 18 free throws for 106 points, an average of 13.3 a game. Gowin is fifth in the individual scoring race among 18 Akron area high schools.

SCORING DATA

Other North scoring marks are: Letta,58; Bragg,46; Sharp, 37 Sykes, 31; Pickering, 21; Donley, 8 and Protich, 6.

North plays at Akron Buchtel tonight. The Buchtel team has won eight and lost three.

Leading NOL Teams Battle

SHELBY—A complete revamping of the Northern Ohio Basketball league standings may come about tonight as four loop games are on the card.

The four top teams of the circuit will tangle. Bellevue's Redmen battle the league-leading Shelby crew in the feature contest here. Shelby tops the league with three straight wins, while Bellevue has lost only once in league competition.

Crestline, also unbeaten, is only a half-game behind the Whippets. The Bulldogs will be host to once-beaten Bucyrus in the other conflict.

Galion travels to Norwalk and Willard plays at Upper Sandusky in other loop encounters.

Blackwell Gets Kidney Removed

GLENDALE, Calif., — (AP) — Pitcher Ewell Blackwell will be a couple of weeks late reporting to the Cincinnati Reds' Florida training camp.

And the lanky righthander will check in light—minus one kidney which he lost by surgery last night in Glendale sanitarium.

It was an emergency operation for a congenital obstruction, said Dr. C. Leroy Turner, but Blackwell "came through fine and should be able to go to camp in about six weeks."

Minnesota Guns For 14th Win

CHICAGO, — (UP) — Minnesota's big nine basketball ers were rated a 13-point favorite today to defeat Indiana tomorrow and preserve an undefeated record of 13 wins, five of them in conference play.

A triumph would give the gophers a two-game advantage in the win column over Illinois, also undefeated in league play, and perhaps set up a championship conference game at Champaign Jan. 22

Illinois will return to the hardwood that night afte a two-week layoff for semester examinations, and Minnesota will be coming on the court after a one-week rest

Indiana's speedy sophomores could give the gophers a terrific scrap, even at Minneapolis, but Minnesota had to be rated the favorite.

The Hoosiers hold a 2-2 record in league play, but one of their losses was a 44-42 double overtime decision to Illinois at Bloomington. Last Monday Indiana smashed Purdue, another tough league opponent, at Bloomington

If the Hoosiers have a hot night at Minneapolis and the gophers turn up a poor performance, which was rather unexected, Indiana could turn in the upset of the year

Minnesota will rely on center Jim McIntyre and forwards Whitey Skoog and Bud Grant, thus far, McIntyre has had only one bad night, but Skoog and Grant threw in the points for another win on that occasion.

In other big nine games on tomorrow's program, Iowa will meet Northwestern in the Chicago stadium as part of a double-header, and Purdue plays at Ohio State.

The Wildcats were given a seven-point edge over Iowa, while Ohio State, playing at home and probably with star forward Dick Schnittker available for some service after an illness which kept him out of two games, was rated six points better than Purdue.

New Barons Join Squad For Clash

Three new members of the Cleveland hockey team were scheduled to join the squad in Springfield today as the barons work out for their game with the indians tomorrow night.

The appearance of center Ken Schultz and twin brothers Dan and Frank Porteous, acquired from the Washington lions, seems to complete the team's forward lines. Only the return of injured defenseman Tom Williams will see the barons at full strength.

AAC Wants Grid Peace But No League Merger

Conflicting News Made In Pro Grid

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Peace machinery between the National Football league and the All-America conference appeared to have bogged down today without producing results.

Even plans for AAC operations in 1949 apparently have been stymied. After three days of secret sessions, several confusing and conflicting announcements have been made by the AAC, which represents the total sum of its work.

"We have hopes for peace," and "the AAC will operate in 1949,"—those have been the only statements issued. Neither announcement, however, had shown signs of becoming fact last night when the AAC ended another fruitless parley which started two hours late when Dan Topping of the New York Yankees and Art McBride, of Cleveland, were mysteriously late in appearing.

TWO MORE TARDY

Ven Lindheimer of the Los Angeles Dons and Tony Morabito of San Francisco also were tardy for the session which had been heralded as "an important and significant meeting".

The conclave broke up about as soon as it began.

Earlier, the grapevine had it that behind the scenes peace talks were beginning to jell and the end of the three-year-old $8,000,000 war was in sight.

It was guessed that ringleaders of both leagues apparently had held their first big parley. George Halas of the NFL Chicago Bears, was said to be the contact man, but he refused to comment specifically. Significantly, however, Halas declared flatly that "the peace hope has evaporated."

NO APPROACH YET

Ostensibly, AAC officials scheduled their meeting as an annual winter business session, but such routine items as schedules, franchises, television policies and so forth have not yet been approached.

Meanwhile, the NFL has gone along under the heading of "business as usual." In its opening session yesterday, owners decided that the televising of the NFL games in 1949 would be an optional matter with each club. Commissioner Bert Bell was granted a new 10-year contract at $30,000 annually—no appreciable raise. He had three years to go on a pact given him in 1947.

'Appleseeders Grind Out Win Over Shelby 5

Johnny Appleseed junior high won its fifth game in eight starts yesterday afternoon, defeating the Shelby reserves, 26-16, in the Appleseed gym.

A big third quarter sewed up the game for the Pioneers after they had trailed at the half, 26-16. They outscored Shelby, 12-4, in the third period and had no trouble thereafter.

Joe Diemer led Appleseed with 10 points while the usual high scorers, Freddy Zahn and Dave Schwen, were held to four and three points respectively.

Joe's brother, Bob Diemer, dropped in eight points to lead the reserves to a 22-8 conquest of the Shelby eighth graders.

Sanders Takes UCLA Grid Job

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Henry R. (Red) Sanders, reluctantly released by Vanderbilt university, prepared today to take over the football reins at UCLA—one of the nation's stormiest grid centers.

Sanders, head coach at Vanderbilt since 1940, was named to the UCLA post last night—and then sweated it out while Vandy officials reportedly made him a lucrative counter-offer, and finally released him from the remaining four years of his contract.

While UCLA Athletic Director Wilbur Johns did not disclose terms, it was reliably reported that Sanders moves west on a three year contract calling for no less than $15,000 a year.

Hot Stove Group Sets First Plans

Initial plans for the Hot Stove league's 1949 Hot Stove league program were setup last night at the city building.

The sport booster group sponsors Mansfield's junior baseball program.

Jimmy Lymper was named promotional director of the group while Stan Kamen, Luther McCally and Gene Hartnett were placed on the nominating committee. Officers for 1949 will be elected at the next meeting, Feb. 3.

Turns Down Offer

'Defensive' Oklahoma Club Surprises Bills, 29 to 27

STILLWATER, Okla.—(AP)—Folks down here say it takes a miracle for a basketball team to whip the Oklahoma A&M Aggies on their home floor.

And today the St. Louis university Billikens, rated the nation's No. 1 squad, are thinking it—if not saying it, too.

Last night a standing-room-only crowd of 9,600 saw the Aggies topple the Bills from the country's unbeaten ranks by the low, narrow score of 29 to 27 in a one-period overtime game.

The Aggies, ranked No. 5 in the Associated Press first nationwide basketball poll, have lost only two games out of 136 played here in 14 years. The first one was in 1946, the other one this year. DePaul did it both times.

A. & M. trailed 14 to 12 at the halftime.

The Aggies didn't even go into the lead until seven minutes of the second half had been played.

KNOTS THE SCORE

The Oklahomans' five-foot nine-inch sophomore guard, Norman Pilgrim, knotted the score at 19-all on a free throw and then A. & M. took a one-point margin on another by Vernon Yates.

The lead changed three times before the overtime period began with the score at 25-all.

J. L. Parks counted a field goal within a minute to send the locals ahead. A. & M.'s Jack Shelton, substitute center, followed with another two points.

The scoring was closed out when "Easy" Ed MacAuley, St. Louis's mighty center, found the net for two points.

A. & M. won the game with only the part-time services of its ramrod, Center Bob Harris. He fouled out trying to smother the Billikens' MacAuley.

National Cuts Player Limit

CHICAGO, — (INS) — National football league clubs will operate with only 32 players each next season, instead of the former total of 35.

This economy-minded move was the highlight of action taken yesterday at the annual winter meeting of the N.F.L.

Other notable action:

1. The free substitution rule will prevail on a trial basis in 1949.

2. Individual-game guarantees for visiting clubs are upped from $15,000 to $20,000, with option of 40 per cent of the net gate.

3. Clubs may televise home games at their own discretion.

Veeck Predicts Tribe Will Repeat In 1949

NEW YORK —(INS)— Cleveland baseball president Bill Veeck made a "rubber stamp" prediction today that the 1949 American League pennant race will end the same way it did last year.

Veeck said it will be Cleveland, Boston, and New York, in that order with Philadelphia rounding out the first division.

'Cat Sophs May Be Surprise

By ED SAINSBURY

CHICAGO —(UP)— Northwestern's cagy sophomores, winners of only two out of nine basketball games this year, are going to surprise a few of the big shots some time this season.

That information comes straight from Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, the Wildcats court coach now in his 22nd season of directing the fortunes of northwestern basketball teams.

"We've had a second half ball club so far," Lonborg said. "The kids seem to relax and go along then and play their own ball game. I've been telling them to try to stay close in the first half and we'll beat them in the second."

Lonborg started the season with co-Captain Bill Sticklen at one forward post and four sophomores. Forward Don Blasius, Center Ray Ragelis, and Guards Dave Allen and Jake Fendley, the other regulars.

The newcomers have been erratic. Blasius came through against Michigan for his best shooting of the season, ending up with 15 points.

"I think Don has got his shot now," Dutch said, "and he's going to be a real good boy."

But Lonborg is still waiting for the other three to get their form.

"Fendley," he said, "is the type of ball player I like. He won't make a lot of points, but he's real aggressive and fast, and when his shot comes, he's going to be very valuable."

Ragelis has been the most erratic of the sophomores, but Dutch believed that the last time out, against Michigan, his game was improved and his shooting showed signs of development.

About Allen, Lonborg was uncertain.

"Dave has all the qualities, but his shot hasn't come either," he said, "and he still favors the ankle he injured last month. But he's going to be a big help one of these days."

Lonborg thinks by February they'll be ready to give some of the top teams of the midwest a tough struggle.

The Wildcats' only victories this year have been over Navy, a victim by 25 points which has remained undefeated in its own territory, and Southern California, one of the good west coast teams.

In conference play Northwestern has dropped its two starts to Ohio State and Michigan. This Saturday the Wildcats tangle with Iowa at the Chicago stadium, and if the youngsters jell then, it'll be a bad night for the Hawkeyes.
